about, widow of the late Mr. Lewis about three years ago. Mrs. Hickmont formerly was a resident of the grocery business in Bridgegate. About Monday morning, Mr. Caleb Hickmont found a person in the street, and on ground his mother-in-law on the pavement of the state street, and he called her out eight o'clock. Deceased was an exp- person, and the supposition is that she was of her bedroom window and sat on the sidewalk and died of herself and distance of some thirty feet.

REIGN.—The trial of the Italian, Felice, of stabbing Rebeck, the potman, at public-house, on Saffron-hill, was continued. Christiana, the sister of the defendant, remembered, is a convict under sentence number of Michael Harrington, at the December last, but whose sentence has expired. Gregorio Moggi was confined, and called on by the judge. The witness Harrington, and sentenced to five years' imprisonment, on Saturday, acquitted on Rebeck. The moment the verdict

BY A FRIENDLY SOCIETIES TREASURER.

THE COURT, Manchester, on Tuesday, William C. B. was arraigned as the Alms House treasurer of the Amalgamated Mining Union, and charged with embezzling £100 4s 6d, for withholding £16 17s 1d, the society. The defendant was the treasurer some months previous to December, 1864. His resignation arose as to the correction of his accounts by the committee, and he refused to let the books were audited and he was found the sum named, for the repayment of into an undertaking. He had, however, been paid, and brought back the money—An thousand claimed; in default the society committed for three months.

This tale she also immediately afterwards, stating that her end to it by her asking whether she had been deceived and asserting that the new proves to be correct. In the course of the police were informed that a woman in Backstreet, named Caroline Walton, the wife of a child in her house, covering the discipline and according to the confession to the thief. She states that she found confined of a child, which died, and that instance would disappoint her husband, who had been deceived by the woman. She threatened the project of stealing another child she had lost. On Tuesday week, she met crying her aunt's child in the Kirkgate market, and pressed her to take it in her arms. The girl, taking the baby in her house, she had clothes it had on, and deceived in it long enough the deception was successful with her end to satisfy the neighbours, who gave the

—At the 11th Ford City Session, on Saturday, J. G. Fry, chairman, N. Powell, J. and Major Stuart), George Ward, 26, a flyer, a seaman on board the ship Moravia, was dramatically thrown overboard from the above ship. J. Smith, a native of ship came into the Victoria docks on Thursday, who since the day of the alleged murder in Irons, was given into the custody of the Inspector of Customs and Excise, Moravia, sailing under the United States flag. Brown was sworn, and said: "I am the ship Moravia, of Bath, City of Maine, On Thursday, I was at the Victoria docks. The prisoner, George Ward, was on the ship Moravia. Between eight and nine o'clock heard some loud talking in the fore-cabin. I went down and saw the prisoner hold- ing a knife called Tom, and the man, Smith, which he held the knife now produced in his back look of the prisoner and took the knife from him. I saw the man, Smith, and the captain and mate of the ship came to my side of the man Tom, and blood was flowing down his pants. There was blood on the deceased lived about twenty minutes after the John Peterson, a seaman on board the ship obtained the evidence given by the mate. In ask as to whether he had anything to say, he said, "I know nothing at all about it; we are." I wish the case adjourned, that I may have the pleasure of counsel." On the application of Mr. man the Bench remanded the prisoner till 10. In the meantime the American Consul will be sent with, for, as the offence was committed under the American flag, it is presumed that the prisoner, as such subject, will be claimed as a prisoner to be sent to the American Government.
