His Lordship Chalmers lost his brief while on circuit, but continued to go on with the case.

Mr Meadow White: But I am not Lord Chalmers, your Lordship. (Laughter.)

Mr White, in consequence settling the defence to the action before the Court, said that His Lordship would not, of course, measure the importance of this case to the defendants by the amount of damage claimed. He represented both

SAD COLLIERY ACCIDENT AT WEST STANLEY

A DEPUTY-OVERMAN KILLED.

On Saturday afternoon, an inquest was held at the house of Mr. Wm. Charlton, the Stanley Hotel, before Judge W. B. Wainwright, coroner, and a jury relative to the death of John Waggett, 43 years, living at Louisa Terrace, West Stanley, who succumbed to the effects of injuries received on the day before last. The evidence adduced showed that the deceased was employed as a deputy-overman at the Louisa Pit. West Stanley (the property of Messrs. Hedley Bros.), and commenced work on Friday at 7 o'clock. He was engaged in timbering the pit roof, a portion of it fell down and prostrated him upon the ground, the debris crushing his ribs and body very severely. The overman, James Waggett, saw him fall, and immediately ran to his aid, and afterwards had the unfortunate man conveyed home, and procured medical aid. He was attended by Mrs. Elizabeth Wainwright, a Marine. He did not recover from the effects of the accident and expired at 12 40 the same afternoon. — A verdict

SHOCKING FATLITY AT ANNFIELD PLAIN.

[illegible]

The only afternoon of Amfield Park had been a quiet one. The young man had been out for a quick stroll by a stream and had fatal blood poisoning from a bite on his leg. represented the Company and Mr. E. M. Ingham, president of the Erie Railroad, who had been on the railway, sharing the "dilly" and told them that there was very little information at all possible obtainable; that the jury was purely conjectural, but recommended that it be put on the "dilly" that the "dilly" was to be brought to a stand-still at the accident from occurring again. No blame was stated, except a beautiful woman, who was wearing a beautiful dress, and was on the board, plate, and following (narration of George Thompson, dated April 22nd, 1890, and April 23rd,
