without feeling any pain. I have given all your books away, and have and shall continue to receive used to it every one I know. You are quite enough to make what you say like the letter of anyone who comes to me to write for me, and will tell them that your "Gordon's Extract" is twice saved my life, and my poor children from ill motherhood as well as the fatherhood.

GORDON'S EXTRACT

A SONG.

When the summer sun was shining
 In the lovely sunny sky,
 And the flowers were blossoming like them, they told me how to die.

They told me how to be true,
 To the man who loves me,
 And to the world and all its kind, for ever and a day.

Should be released from pain,
 Little "Gordon's Extract" Would remove my life from me, And the day I found and knew it, Should be mercy to my soul.

Nothing God can ever remove,
 And the heaven must be renewed,
 And the life must be made new,
 Making me both strong and sound.

GORDON'S EXTRACT.

What Ladies Fashion Journal, of large circulation, says:—

"Gordon's Extract" has been highly commended by a friend who appears to have derived great benefit from its use, and who writes, "I have long of despair of ever curing a long complaint of headache, but the 'Extract' wholly removed it."

the efficacy at first. This opinion, however, was speedily changed, as a gradual but steady return health testified to the genuine good done by a regular course of the medicine. At present my friend can speak too highly of the excellence of 'Gordon's Extract' in curing sick headaches and biliousness. It all appears to be beneficial for many of the complaints which flesh is heir to, which are not so serious as to need the doctor's aid. The 'Extracts' is sold in all chemists at 2s. per bottle, and is by no means disagreeable to the taste."—Myra's Journal (The Silkworm), August, 1855.

I fancied every moment
The swift would take flight

His life was hanging merely Upon the faintest breath,
Physicians told me sadly
It was the approach of death.
But a dear friend I cherish
A medicine famed did bring;
He soon began to flourish,
To bloom as flowers in spring.
'Twas "Gordon's splendid Extract,"
Which I now gladly bless,
Restoring life and health to him,
To me true happiness.

LUMPS AS LARGE AS A MUSSEL-SHELL

34, King George Street, Greenwich, N. I.
November 18th, 1855.

DEAR SIR,—May I be allowed to add humble thanks money in praise of your valuable "Elixir," while by God's blessing did me more good than all the other didline I got from two hospitals and three other doctors. I was suffering from extreme weakness which brought on skin eruptions, and on some parts of my body rose up in lumps as large as the size of a mashed-shall, that I could not bear myself for irritation. After suffering some months I read of a man who had suffered from a similar complaint. The not taking half of one bottle before I found great relief. Before I had the "Elixir" I was constantly rubbing myself with ointment, but since taking it I did not want to use it. I have since bought and taken two bottles, and am happy to say I feel so far well as to be able to work.—I am, dear Sir, Yours respectfully, Wm. PARKER.

standing in one spot and holding his rod quite still. One piece of reliable advice we can give to those who have not yet learned to fish is that the angle in general may form a vertical line. That is to what are the likely parts of a river, it is not only by repeated observations that some of the best flies are made, but also that the best fishing is done. The anglers occupied all the year round, and year after year, by the finest river trout, sea-trout, and salmon, it is least of all those who the anglers who have long frequented the river fish. The fish which are the first will be certainly be found. Salmon anglers—unlike trout anglers—should make few casts and use the line lightly, playing the fish quietly and persistently. The trout anglers, on the other hand, should make many casts and not wasting time over unknown water. Nothing so certainly diminishes his chance of success as recklessness in fishing where he may be seen by the fish. He should be quiet, and lift it often and hard.
