ATTEMPT TO MURDER AN ESSEX MAGISTRATE
A telegram from Cambridge Mates that information had been received there of an attempt having been made to murder Captain Elliott, of Chesterford, magistrate for the county of Essex. A servant of Captain Elliott's was recently subsequently left her husband and child in Chesterford. Last week the husband of the Chesterford, and is said to have inforto prevail on his wife to return home was Captain Elliott being in London the morning in the neighbourhood and awaited his living learned by what train Captain Elliott was, the man waylaid him at the railway station. The altercation took place, and Captain Elliott was knocked down with a stick. He called for help and his assailant then drew a revolver and fired at him. Captain as he lay on the ground. The assailant then struck the captain's trousers, and the life was saved. The would be assassin was arrested.

EXTENSIVE ROBBERY AND CAPTURE DECEEN.—For the last few months, I lialie and Scaife, of Liverpool, have been hot chase through the kingdom and C er a young Spaniard, 20 years old, named Agacia, son of a Liverpool merchant, w bbed of £2,300 in English notes and Spani
 May 28th last. He appears to have bee with a young girl named Spier, to w a got married, through London, Calais, P star, London, Windermere, Preston, and the latter place, on Friday, the fugitive was overtaken, and arrested in the parlour of a boarding-house, 10, St. George's Street. It was fortunate that Agacio was taken unawares, as in his bedroom he had two revolvers, and made a frightful struggle to escape, to reach him the weapons. The accused was brought before the Liverpool stipendiary on Monday, and remanded, along with a brother of the assassin's, to whom Agacio had given £100,000, to have been recovered. Agacio's father appeared in court. He said he would answer questions.

PARTY PROCESSIONS AND RIOTERS IN DERRY.—The proceedings in connection with the anniversary of the relief of Derry created considerable excitement in that city on Monday. The main street was guarded by a large force of artillery, infantry of the line, and cavalry. The city was also occupied by constabulary and a body of troops were stationed on the walls.

the morning an Orange procession, numbering some 3,000 persons, many of whom were women and carried flags paraded the principal streets outside the walls to the music of four bands. A counter procession, composed of Catholics, from the Corn Market, and to the number of 7,000 persons, wearing party colours, and carrying flags, made a circuit of the streets outside the walls, their admission inside being refused by the police. A determined attempt was made to break in. The mobs were charged by the carb stabs and were ultimately kept by a valy officer and some processionists were told that the man has died it is said, from the stab wound by a valy officer. Whilst the contest at the house was going on, the Orangemen and the Catholics were more than a hundred yards apart. The music was played all the public house, and all persuaded to be at home after six o'clock. The Orangemen were sent to gaol for a month, and others were committed to take their trial in a higher court. A contempt was made on Saturday night to run the trial, and inside the walls the police had the most considerable difficulty in keeping the factious and large crowds, assembled outside the walls, from being kept in check.

the gooseberry and vegetable competition, which takes place annually at the ancient village of Chester, came off on Saturday. The anniversary of the Wesleyan South Church being held on the day, the villagers were entirely thrown out of the even tenor of their way; yet, the characteristic quiet of the place did not seem to be much disturbed. The show was held in a large room in Mrs. Anderson's public-house, and it was admitted on all hands that the quality of productions was high. WITTON GILBERT.
This annual show of flowers, fruits, vegetable matter, eggs, and farm produce, was held at Witton, on Monday, in a field kindly granted for the occasion by Mr. Joseph Smith. The weather was favourable, the attendance good, and the show well-attended on. Messrs. Bell and Herbert, of Durham, are the judges of the flowers, fruits, and vegetable matters. A. Wearmouth and S. Holmes the judges of the farm produce; and Messdames Smith and Turner the judges of the eggs. The entertainments were as usual, as evidenced by a variety of sports and the music of the Durham Union Band.

A gigantic cake, seven and a half feet in length, has been caught at Dunbar.

It is stated that up to Saturday last 5,000

SYDNEY SMITH'S WIT.—His reply, for instance, to the beautiful girl who complained, "O Mr. Sydney, this pea will never come to perfection!" Then permit me to lend perfection to the pea." In its style perfect. Even French wit and chivalry never equalled that; and in the Court of Lords, in 1841, it would have been crowned with a Cardinal's hat. His reply to the Archbishop of York—"I bid you, Mr. Smith, you do not approve of much riding in the clergy," "Why, my Lord, perhaps there is a small objection, provided they do not ride too well," and stick out their toes professionally," was very ingenious; for Sydney Smith could never sit a horse.

appeared to him with "Now, Mr. Smith, it is not a fact used not to be so, I believe, formerly, but perhaps the Lord Mayor and Aldermen have altered lately." He traced out the analogies of these wondrous quickness. A man at his side reckoned the amount of his ground-rent at £5 a foot. "A foot the price of a London footman six feet high, this is the same difference between their tongues as between the hour and the minute hand: one goes ten times as fast, and the other signifies ten times much." "If you masthead a sailor for not doing duty, why should you not weathercock a pariah for refusing to pay tithes?"—The Edinburgh Review or the Gentleman's Magazine for August.

A SQUID OF FIFTY YEARS AGO.—In July 1815, the following curious paragraph appeared in the most popular magazine published at that time. It is No. 870, finds the nephew of the First Napoleon at work and some of the allusions contained in the note of 1818 are so appropos at the present moment that we think it may be worth while to reprint it, and, according WITTON GILBERT.

This annual show of flowers, fruits, vegetable matter, eggs, and farm produce, was held at Witton, on Monday, in a field kindly granted for the occasion by Mr. Joseph Smith. The weather was favourable, the attendance good, and the show well-succesful one. Messrs. Bell and Herbert, of Durham, are the judges of the flowers, fruits, and vegetable matters. A. Wearmouth and S. Holmes the judges of the farm produce; and Messames Smith and Turner the judges of the eggs. The entertainments were as usual, as evidenced by a variety of sports and the music of the Durham Union Band.

A gigantic cake, seven and a half feet in length, has been caught at Dunbar.

THE BELGIUM IRON TRADE.—The Belgium iron trade being expected to prove somewhat depressed in consequence of the war, the Belgian Minister for Public Works has consented to give an order of 15,000 tons of rails for the Belgian State railways. The order may possibly be increased to 20,000 tons.

XIV, it would have been crowned with a Cardinal's hat. His reply to the Archbishop of York—"I bid thee beware the cherry."—"Why, my Lord, perhaps there is a cherry in the cherry," was a very good and witty rejoinder. His objection, provided they do not ride too well, was not stick out their toes professionally, was very well seen; for Sydney Smith could never sit a horse, and his diocesan was one of the finest horsemen in the province where every boy is born in a saddle and rides and drives by instinct. There was a touch of the courtier, as well as of the wit in his reply to the laird who, arguing in a large party that it was always appeared to him with "Now, Mr. Smith, it is not as if it used not to be so, I believe, formerly, but perhaps the Lord Mayor and Aldermen have altered it lately." He traced out the analogies of things with marvellous quickness. A man at his side reckoned the amount of his ground-rent at £5 a foot. "Ah," said the other, "the price of a London footman six feet high, this is quinquas a-year." Upon a couple of talkers, "The same difference between their tongues as between the hour and the minute hand: one goes ten times as fast, and the other signifies ten times as much." "If you masted a sailor for not doing his duty, why should you not weathercock a pariah for refusing to pay tithes?"—The Edinburgh Review to the Gentleman's Magazine for August.

A SCOUT FIFTY YEARS AGO.—In July 1815, the following curious paragraph appeared in the most popular magazine published at that time. July 1870, finds the nephew of the First Napoleon at hand, and some of the allusions contained in the note of 1815 are so apposite at the present moment that we think they may be worth while to reprint, it, and according to so verbatim:—"Wants a Situation, an Emperor who has served in the highest and lowest capacities, and who has been the ally of all the despots of Europe for his Russian character to the Emperors of Austria and Russia. Engages to show the way to any capital in Europe, London excepted. Undertakes to lead any army to conquest, provided he does not meet the Duke of Wellington. Begs leave to obstruct the gentlemen of the army that he permits pillage, and
