THE WEEK.

MISSIONARY MURDERING.

The Chinese have been brilliantly successful in the brutal murder of a British missionary. Mr. James Wylie, who was attacked by a party of soldiers, and killed in open day. Of this characteristic achievement the Chinese are doubtless extremely proud. To murder a defenceless European is an act of public spirit, and we are not surprised to read that when the court magistrate left the town of Lake in his chair of office his superiors at Tientsin, called on the officers who had witnessed the crime to surrender the assassins, the demand was treated with contempt. Of course, the murderers will not end there. Every Chinaman is rejoicing at the missionary's death, because every Chinaman is a savage, but some Chinamen are sensible diplomatic disciplines. Li Hung Chang, who is a very astute statesman, will express his deep regret to the British Foreign Office at the unfortunate incident at Lia-Yang. The soldiers will be decapitated, and probably their officers will be degraded, at any rate for a time. Decapitations in China is so common as a fine of half-a-crown in an English police-court, and has about as much significance. Life is so little regarded by the Celestials that a few heads on or off make not the slightest difference to public sentiment. After the various apologies and executions, there will be just the same desire to kill a missionary as there is now opportunity. One disadvantage of the war in the East to Great Britain is, that Japan is regarded by the Chinese as our special protégé. If the Japanese achieve any notable success the impulse in China to take revenge by murdering unarmed Englishmen will be scarcely controllable. We may expect to hear, therefore, of massacres and more apologies from Li Hung Chang, and more decapitations. They are all in a day's work for a Chinese diplomatist, but they do not make the outlook for our own diplomacy particularly agreeable.

NEGRO HATRED IN THE STATES.

There seems to be a violent commotion in the Southern States of America about Miss Ida B. Wells's visit to England. This lady, whose life was threatened in Memphis because of her pro-negro agitation against the indiscriminate lynching of negroes, obtained a very large measure of sympathy in this country, and she has returned to America with a special appeal from ministers of religion of Great Britain to American divines of all denominations against the abominable travesties of justice in the South. The necessity for such an appeal may be judged from the fact that a Southern bishop has openly vindicated lynching as the "resumption of the natural sovereignty of the people." To hang a man without trial, and on the evidence very often of the more prejudice against his colour, is to this pillar of the Gospel a legitimate act of popular sovereignty. Cannibalism might be defended in Polynesia on the same grounds. We remember that before the American Civil War slavery was constantly justified both in the North and South as based on Scriptural authority. There were individuals in those days who thought the sale of human flesh was as indispensable to "natural sovereignty" and to true religion. The old Abolitionists had more trouble in teaching the shrewder and better class of Christian teachers than they had in impressing their cause on the minds of mere politicians. We see a revival of this difficulty now in the Southern opinion. The emancipation of the negro has evidently taught the lesson to the Southerners. They are furious against English public opinion, and they defend lynching with an equal disregard for common sense. They judge from the tirades in their newspapers, they evidently wish us to believe that crime in the South is confined to negroes and blacks. A black man must be hanged at once, without process of law, because the law's delay is intolerable; but we are left to presume either that a white man never does anything worthy of the gallows, or that when he does, the law's delay is quite acceptable. The black is lynched as a rule for alleged assaults on women; but Miss Wells has shown that there is never any inquiry, that the supposed culprit is often mistaken for another man, that it is quite common for a negro to be lynched because the white mob is looking for another and cannot find him, and that many of "the assaults" are simply gallant intrigues which are not punished when they are practised by white men with negro women. If we wanted any further evidence in support of Miss Wells it would be afforded by the tone and temper of the Southern Press. A country in which such writing is possible may be a Republic, and nominally enjoy the appurtenances of civilisation; but it is really quite as much a barbarism as would have disgraced the ninth century as much as it disgraces the nineteenth.

MAGISTERIAL WISDOM.

The wisdom of magistrates is sometimes beyond the common ken. At the Edinburgh Police-court a youth was charged with having stolen the family Bible from his mother's house and he was fined 5s. or 10 days. He intended to redeem the Bible at the end of the week, when he got his wages—an explanation which was scarcely convincing. But he could not redeem it, and pawned it, because the mother took the Bible to the pawnbroker

LOCAL FLOWER SHOWS.

TOW LAW.

However in the matter of public support annexed to various shows of Durham County have been a source what common experience this year, but the exhibition of the Tow Law Floral, Horticultural, and Industrial Society on Saturday was one of the finest yet held under the auspices of the society. Full circumstances arrived from Newcastle (via Consett) and decisions and intermediate stations. The day was fine but not warm, but everywhere there was keenness. The small room was crowded to excess being a huge show. Mr W. Anderson runs the secretarial office with ability, and has a good committee. A band concert, French and Judge, Mr Wilkinson being chairman. The Tow Mechanics' Institute made a popular programme. Advance was shown in most departments, both of poultry and pigeons being admirable. Rabbits were not quite so numerous as usual, but the quality of the rabbits was of a fairly good standard. The display of blooms and plants was really brilliant, whilst the industrial department afforded an attractive exhibition. The judges were as follows:—

Plants, flowers, fruit, and vegetables—Messrs James Larkin, Castle Gardens, Bishop Auckland; Thomas Rutherford, Lanton Lodge, Durham; and Joseph Bishop Auckland.

Poultry, pigeons, rabbits, and canies—Mr E. Hobson, Pudsey, near Leeds.

Butter, eggs, and bread—Mrs Bonn, Wilson-le-Wear.

Industrial department—Messrs R. Charlton, Tudhoe, and W. oughton, Frasers' West.

Lady amateurs' section—Mrs Robertson, Howdon-le-Wear, and Mrs Lyall, Sunderland.

Schools' sections—Mr J. Barnes, Shildon, and lady assistant judges.

The chief bye-attraction was a brass band contest. Four bands entered—viz., Tow Law Temperance, and listened to with keen interest by the green crowd present. In the afternoon Tow Law Wesleyan Reformists, Esterning. KYO.

The Kyo Floral, Horticultural, and Industrial Society held its 26th annual show on Saturday, in a field extended generally as the rear of the Grown and Thistles Inn. Classes were chiefly placed at the disposal of the committee by Mr George Hudson, of Harperley Mills. The weather was fine, and the show, under the circumstance and not at all inferior with the accustomed of visitors, the exhibition being remarkably well patronised. The entries, numerically, were about the same as last year, and the exhibits generally may be classified as "excellent" throughout; the vegetables especially being a decided specialty. The pot plants made a very formidable display of both blooms and foliage; but the entire flower garden seemed to have suffered from the continued rainy season of the summer, for it was somewhat poor in quantity, although no doubt found up the quality of the produce. A special programme of music was contributed to by the enfield Tow Silver Medal Brass Band, led by Mr Forster. This band, although little heard of this year, seems on a fair way of regaining its former prestige and popularity. A fête sports were brought off and as the ball held in the margins at night, Mr W Cheese, of Catchgate, officiated as M.C. Mr Geo Sutherland, secretary for Mr Hudson, simply attended to their duties as secretaries to the show. The cited luncheon, apart from the exhibition tables, was served in the usual content, open to all choice in the district; each luncheon not more than 30 weeks before their pets' poems. Mr Forster of Tanfield Lea, acted as adjudicator, and gave his award as under :—1st, Mr Burnsfield; 2, Primitive Methodist Choir—both for simplicity, poise; "Comrade's song of hope"; 3rd, Mr Spearmaker Baptist—Mr Adams, "The Lord's Prayer"; 3rd, 61, Dipton Primitive Methodist—Mr Henderson. When these opposite to a whole robe?

Subjoined are the judges in the other departments :—Cottage fruit, and vegetables—Messrs Wm Blackhill; Mr J Battersby, Hagg Hill; and Mr Watt, Harperley Hall. Ladies' classes, Mrs Simpson, and Mrs Oxley, both of Kyo. Plants—Messrs Sir George Hobson, Harperley Mills, and Mr J Lumley, Tanfield Hall. Cut flowers—Mr Wm Armstrong, Annfield Plain; Mackay, Greenford; and Telford, Hare Law.

JOTTINGS BY THE WAY.

[By "Incog."]

THE LATE MRS RENTON.

A much respected lady, and a familiar figure on the banks of the Derwent at Shotley Bridge, has during the past few days been laid beneath the sod. Mrs Renton, of Orchard House, was comparatively little known outside the radius of the secluded village of Shotley Bridge, and the sheltered environments of Orchard House. She seemed to live for doubt felt, and felt truly, that a woman's home is her kingdom, and she fulfilled the sentiment therein inculcated to the letter. Everybody spoke in kindly terms of Mrs Renton, and her memory will be held in pleasant remembrance for many years to come.

THE SHOTLEY PRIMITIVES.

So say old neighbours, the Shotley Bridge Primitives, have turned their backs on the old tabernacle in Wood Street, having resolved to second the heights, Excelsior-like, and pitch their tents at a higher altitude. That they are a lively, progressive people I am well satisfied, having once upon a time lived next door to them. In those days I was a sort of innocent abroad, and knowing absolutely nothing of the peculiarities of Primitive Methodist ways of worship, was soundly laid on the mat through the walls of the chapel in Wood Street almost took my breath away. It was, I believe, during a mission service that the wheel of fortune led me to settle at Shotley, and being created amongst the mountains of the north, I had never heard either ejaculation or response uttered during the service in Church, the people all remaining standing while the minister prayed, and sitting at a body while they sang. Little wonder then that the sounds produced in a Primitive Methodist Chapel during a revival service led me to imagine that either some terrible tragedy or unholy rite was being enacted within the sacred walls of the house of God. I will never forget the mixed feelings of mingled dread and wonder which led me to leave my sanctum one dark winter night, just as the sounds from the chapel waxed louder and louder and peer through the keyhole of the door. It was the pursuit of knowledge under difficulties, but I learned with no small degree of satisfaction that no deadly weapons were being used, nor did any bones appear to be broken. Since the date at which the incident narrated above took place, not a few of those enthusiastic worshippers have entered into the rest they laboured so faithfully to obtain, but the work still goes on and prospers, a fact which is best exemplified by the recent arrangements to leave the old sanctuary in the valley, and build a more excellent one further up the mountain.

TRAINS OF THE DERWENT VALLEY LINE: IS IT POSSIBLE TO PLEASE SOME PEOPLE?

The train service on the Derwent Valley Line was again raised by a contribution to the correspondence column in the last issue of this journal. The writer of the epistle under note—like many men who take to letter writing—wears a veiy extravagant cut. He starts from Newcastle at present stands trains leave the city by 5 20 in the afternoon and 7 30 in the evening. This does not meet the requirements of the writer of the letter in question, and he is consequently in favour of agitating to the end that a train leave Newcastle city at six o'clock at night. This, I think, is going a little too far, and were such an arrangement made it would certainly militate against the running of a train slightly from the city to Consett at a late hour in the evening. It is as astonishing as it is unfair that a train for Consett and the intermediate stations should not leave Newcastle nightly, so as to enable passengers arriving by the late special trains from the north and south to get home at a reasonable hour. In the respect the present arrangements are really behind the times, and when the Parish Councils Act comes into operation this subject will have to be grappled with. It will

LANCASTER CHURCH.

Majestic thy ground and stately now!
High in the air doth its height rise;
And looks serenely o'er the peaceful dead,
Who once with merry heart full many an hour
Have viewed this lovely vale and o'er yond
That shrouds thee in a mist of solitude.

Around thy walls in radiant beauty lie
Exquisite scenes of all kind in summer sheen,
And there in myer's splendour o'er the scene
Now lofty hills in softer scenery,
Whose summits mark the valley's mighty sweep,
Where ragges as elements profoundly deep.

Oft have I heard thy chimes; like phantom sounds
Break wild and free from upon the solemn bush,
And magic music pour from every bush,
Sending the rare, that everything around resounds.
A sweeter blush, a fragrance more divine,
There as thy fane those lovely scenes environs alone!

Thy gladsome chimes that swell the Sabbath a
Celestial sound o'er sacred heights do flow,
And soft and clear the distance swoon and low,
Like echo of an angel-chant'd prayer.
Amen! The class was composed of 60 members.
"God-will on earth." Peace, peace to all be given."

PRIMITIVE METHODISM AT SHOTLEY BRIDGE.

FOUNDATION-STONE CEREMONY.

On Saturday afternoon, the ceremony of laying the foundation stones of a new Primitive Methodist Church and Sunday-school at Shotley Bridge, was performed in the presence of a large and represen tative gathering. For years past the old chapel in Wood street has been found far too small to cope with the growing requirements of this district, and a more central site has been secured in Front Street, on the main road to Newcastle. The edifice is to be of Gothic design, and the church itself will provide accommodation for some 450 worshippers, while the school will have sufficient room for about 250 children and teachers. The cost of the building is roughly estimated to be £2,000. The architect is Mr George Race, C.E., of Wingate. Wear dale, the contractors being Messrs Lubbock and Sons, of Blackhill. The sub-contractors are as follows:—Joiner work, Mr Geo. Race; painting and decorating, Mr J. Thirlwell, Shotley Bridge; plumbing and glazing, Mr R. Irwin, Shotley Bridge.

The proceedings commenced with a hymn, after which the Rev E. W. JENKINS (Baptist), Highgate, read the 84th Psalm.

The Rev W. RAITRICK said he was pleased to see such a representative gathering to witness the performance of the ceremony which would ever be remembered in the annals of Methodism in Shotley Bridge. They all knew that they required a more commodious place of worship for the children than they were about to lay the foundation-stones of a building which, when completed, would be a credit to the Society, and a credit to the village of Shotley Bridge. He held in his hand a bottle, which he would place in the cavity of the stone, and it contained many important documents, including a plan of the building, a circuit plan, the names of the trustees of the new Church, Methodist Magazine, Primitive Methodist, Consett Guardian, a bill of the day's proceedings, &c.

Mr TELFORD said he had a pleasant duty to perform. It had been allotted to him to introduce the gentleman who had to lay the first stone. The name of the Annandale family had been connected with the village of Shotley Bridge for a lengthened period, and was a household word amongst the families that had, and were residing in the Derwent Valley. The name of the firm, Messrs Annandale and Sons, had been a blessing to that locality. Many had been true friends to the Primitive Methodist cause. Many of those who had been employed under this firm had been the most prominent members of the Society. Mr Annandale, who was to lay this stone, was a worthy son of a noble sire. They regretted that Coun. James Campbell, J.P., was not present with them that day, but they all knew the cause that detained him. When they went to see the Annandale Memorial Institute, this important ceremony, they received a ready response that they would heartily comply with the wishes of the Primitive Methodists of Shotley Bridge. They were glad to think that they were going to become the possessors of a building, a credit of the cause, and a credit to the village. Before calling on Mr Annandale to perform the ceremony, he would read to them the following letter he had received from Mr James Annandale, which explained his absence from the meeting, and expressed a hope that the befitting would be happily completed. He also enclosed cheques to be placed on the first stone. It now behoved to him with pleasure to call upon Mr W. M. Annandale, of Linthorpe, to lay the first stone.

Mr ANNANDALE, who was heartily cheered, having proceeded to the stone to be truly laid, said: I feel deeply sensible of the honour conferred upon me by being asked to perform the ceremony of lay ing the foundation-stone of the new Primitive Methodist Chapel at Shotley Bridge, and more especially so after the very kind words spoken by Mr Telford. In the unavoidable absence of one more worthy, I am proud to stand here as the representative of a family who have been connected with Shotley Bridge and its progressive industries for the greater part of a century, and to hear that the memory of my progenitors is held in such high esteem by those who have lived sensibly and made for themselves a name and a position among re sensible hard workers of the district. I can truly say that several have fully appreciated by the past as it is by the present and the rising generations of our family. We have felt ourselves all to be co-workers with the people in the battle of life, and among our many friends none have been more valuable and trusted than those connected, in the past and in the present, with the Primitive Methodist cause at Shotley Bridge, and we should feel standing in brotherly kindness if we were not forward now and lend a helping hand in their time of need. I look to my hand. A short history of the congregation from the year 1820, when Primitive Methodism was first introduced into Shotley Bridge. The sect seem to have had many ups and downs since then, but to have weathered the storm, and to have breasted the billows with greater confidence in its own strength. The Primitive Methodists have carried on a noble work in this district in a humble unobtrusive way; but as time rolls on, and the taste of the people alters they find it necessary to meet changing ideas by having a more elegant and comfortable place of worship. It is an axiom that the great sanitary improvements carried out in the district have swept the foundation of the present chapel, which threatens to become a ruin about their heads. Naturally, they prefer to escape from that calamity, and think they can do more good as preachers than as martyrs. That our friends are worthy of our best sympathy and support in their present undertaking there can be no great question. They are hard working, but it is a work of necessity, and that being so they are not shirked their duty; they have faced the difficulty like men, and are determined to build a tabernacle for the worship of God that will eclipse in beauty and comfort any of their own dwellings—a house, beautifully situated, which will catch the eye of visitors coming to Shotley Bridge, and which would be more attractive and commodious than the well-lighted bars of the public-houses. Having carefully and prayerfully, and for many years considered the matter, like Nehemiah of old, they embarked their convictions by putting their shoulders to the wheel; and, as they have done in the past, carefully plodding on whilst the ladies have been cheerfully busying about gathering the money from every flower, concerts, bazaars, and fêtes, and have each and all told the tale of much hard work, and added their quota to the little hoard. It has this been all—hard working men have putthem hands deep into their pockets and given liberally and cheerfully of their hard earned savings, and all this not being sufficient they have undertaken the responsibility of guaranteeing some further hundreds of pounds to complete the work. Under these circumstances, and as a disinterested onlooker, I would earnestly urge all those present to show their sympathy in a very practical way. Coin of the realm is urgently needed to compass the work. Money given to such a cause brings its own peculiar reward and blessing. It was that prince who gave loaned to the Lord, and the Lord loveth a cheerful giver (Cheers.)

Rev W. RAITRICK afterwards presented Mr Annandale with a volume of the history of the Primitive Methodist Connexion from its origin to the year 1889.

Mr ANNANDALE acknowledged the gift, and said—I thank you most heartily for this beautiful volume. It will be carefully studied, and a lifelong reminder to me of many interesting events, and of the happy accomplishment of the work of nobly sent out given by Primitive Methodists at Shotley Bridge, and I feel sure it will be equally valued as an heirloom by my family who are unavoidably absent from this meeting.

The next stone was laid by Mr W. E. Maxsees, as Master of Darlington, as the Rev. Mr Jenkins was a stranger to most of them it afforded him great pleasure to take part in that ceremony and he congratulated the Primitive Methodists of that village upon the success that had crowned their efforts. There was not conceded, that society was a most interesting one. Let them look at its origin, and see how God had prospered the cause. The first class in the circuit was formed at Priestfield, and was formed at Stanley in Staffordshire in March 1819. The class was composed of 60 members, some of whom were members of another church. The class was the result of a special mission to that place by the Messrs Bourne and a Mr Bourne. This class was offered to the Burslem circuit by the old Methodist Society, but Mr Bourne, the then superintendent, declined to accept it unless the Bourne's should not be allowed to preach there. This was not conceded, and was the first Primitive Methodist Church. It was against the intention of our founders, but in the providence of God the first chapel was built at Tunstall, Staffordshire in 1811. This chapel was 16 yards long and 8 yards wide. The ro d was not even flagged. It was very plain, and so built that it could be converted into a stable if the movement should not succeed. They also found that the Primitive Methodist Connexion had also another missionary employed was old James Crawfoot, at a salary of 10s per week. This district, and a more central site has been secured in Front Street, on the main road to Newcastle. The edifice is to be of Gothic design, and the church itself will provide accommodation for some 450 worshippers, while the school will have sufficient room for about 250 children and teachers. WHARDALE AGRICULTURAL SHOW.

The annual show was held at St John's Chapel on Saturday, and was, as in previous years, a great success. The country was favoured with fine but cold weather, and the attendance of visitors from the several districts represented was large. The entries numbered 291, and compared favourably with those of previous years. There was a large falling off in the entries for black-faced sheep, but the deficiency was fully made up in the classes for shorthorned cattle, and Cheviot and Blackfaced sheep. The Messrs Watson were keen competitors in the class for cattle and sheep, and took the prize for which were given by Sir Joseph Pease Bart, M.P., and Mr Jackson. After some solicitation Mrs Fenwick of Hedley Hall, Lanchester, consented to judge the horses, and Mr Jos Smith, Newsham, Blyth, the cattle, sheep, and pigs. Mr Fenwick's decisions in the second instance. In the sheep section, Mr J Vickers, of Low Westwood, Tow Law, showed a pen of lambs which was awarded first prize for black-faced sheep above 2 years old. Mr Vickers was successful with this class last year, and Durham County Show before. Shields last week. This animal has been exhibited at a number of shows, and has secured first prizes and two specials. During the afternoon, the Shotley Bridge Band, under the conductorship of Mr W. English, played an excellent programme of music. Refreshments were provided by Mr Watson, who is to be congratulated on the efficient manner in which the arrangements were carried out. The judges were as follows:—

At the close of the show the judges sat down to luncheon in the Temperance Hall, the purveyor being Mr J G Watson, Blue Bell Hotel. Mr J A Guldyard, of Burnopfield, was appointed steward, and Mr Thomas J C. Stanhope, occupied the vice-chair.

The CHAIRMAN, having proposed the loyal toasts, gave "Success to the Wardale Agricultural Society." He was sorry indeed that what Mr M.P. was not able to be present with them, but he had pleasure in reading to them the following letter:—

DEAR SIR,—I am very sorry not to be able to be present at the Wardale Agricultural Show to-morrow, but I and my partners are making their holiday, and I find so many things to attend to after my long absence in London, that I cannot get away the day. Will you kindly apologise to the Chairman for me, please, and convey my regret that I am unable to support him.

I am sure the Wardale people will be satisfied with the improvements the railway is making. Generally I believe that six of the bridges are practically completed, and the contractor is rapidly progressing towards completion; that the river diversions are also practically completed, and the earthwork in the cuttings and embankments are well forward, and that by the end of October the trains will be running and ready for ballasting. The station yards and works are also being done, and the first part of the line is nearly over. This, I am sure, must be a cause for congratulation in the dale. I am afraid, however, that there is some delay in the railway in consequence of the present condition of local mining, and I fear seat weather has been very detrimental to the Wardale Forest.—Yours faithfully,

J. W. PEASE.

He agreed with Sir Joseph Pease, and hoped that his good wishes would be fruitful. He was pleased to see so many of the members of their show that day, and that gentlemen from the more thirty-fourth shire should have equalled Stanhope show. (Hear.) Well, he did not like comparisons as any time, and much less at shows, but he was glad to see that they had an increase in number of entries, while the show of dales ponies was a splendid one. (Hear, hear.) A few years ago he thought that this breed had died out, but what he had seen had caused him to change his opinion. The dales pony was a most useful animal, and would be a great help to them on the fells. With the toast he coupled the name of Mr Ralph Watson, who appropriately responded.

Mr JOE WATSON, Tow Law, gave "The Judges," and Mr Johnson replied.

Mr T. FENTLAND, Ireshopeburn, gave "The Donors" and "The Chairman," the latter being responded to by Mr Reddoch and Mr Stanhope.

Mr Fenwick assured them that he took a great interest in the farmers. He thought if the farmers kept that show up they would be doing well. (Laughter.)

The toast of "The Chairman" was duly honoured, and the proceedings were brought to a close.

ACCIDENTS.

Two regrettable accidents somewhat marred the day's proceedings. The first occurred to Thomas Harrison, of New House, who was riding a bicycle in front of Mr J. Watson's waggonette, when his machine, on the late leg broken by coming in contact with a post. Dr Bradshaw, of Allendale, at once attended to him and had the injured limb set, and it is expected a more serious nature occurred at Stanhope Bridge, by which a Middleton man named Thomas Tate, of Hester Hill, was seriously injured. He, along with three others, had been in charge of a waggon for Middleton Show, and were entering home in a trap, when the passing over the bridge a number of very dangerous ruts he trap was overturned and he was thrown out, falling on his head and striking the stone work of the bridge. Blood gushed from his ears and he lay apparently dead. Medical aid was promptly on the scene, Dr Bradshaw and Dr Hunter soon both arrived, and had the poor fellow removed to his home, where it is hoped he will soon be able to be sustained a fracture at the base of the skull.

The man is now dead from the effects of his injuries on Monday night.

PASSING EVENTS.

SUNDAY HOLIDAYS—"EXTRAS" PUBLIC HOUSE REFORM—THE COLLECTION-BOX NUISANCE—CHOLERA—LAUNDRY AND TRADERS'—SEPTEMBER NOT SO.

Once more the—periodical cry is raised against the Long Vacation. That unconsecration-like holiday for the judges now stretched up to a fortnight six years ago, but it is still ten weeks, and there is a demand for the cutting away of four of them. At present the judges are holiday-making, whilst many legal folks in the whole year—distinctly more than a third of the available working-days in a twelve-month. Neither side of the question gets so much plaintive, except school-children, whose holidays continue to augment, and will, I suppose, eventually embrace the whole of their scholastic live. It is only the judges who cling to the Long Vacation—judges, and perhaps wrongdoers, who are gratified when that a citation served in July need not be answered till the end of August. Barristers, especially junior barristers, do not relish the prolonged spell of idleness, and smile in a sad sort of way when the judge pleasantly announces that every lawyer on a holiday takes care to be paid for it.

The Postmaster General is at variance with the Post Office Guide and sundry postmasters with respect to the delivery of letters. Not seen by the public when they want their letters to forwarded under expired regulations. Mr Arnold Morley maintains that the retention of such letters have simply to endorse on them their wishes and post them in any letter-box, pillar or otherwise. But the whole duty of it is to forward them take another view of the situation, and punish postmasters when misdirected letters have been handed over the counter. Mr Hesmiker Heaton is surely justified in thinking Mr Morley's answer to the Post Office should come to some agreement among themselves. This is by no means the first illustration of the slovenly way in which letters from headquarters permeate the entire postal administration. Mr. Morley seems to think he has done his duty when he has spoken. The heads of a good many district and branch post-offices are somewhat hard of hearing.

The impertunity of collection-boxes in the streets is becoming very much a matter of serious irritation. Now the thoroughfares are thinned by the annual exodus the pedestrian is more outrageously set upon. Last week I saw smart women, who rattle money-boxes under his nose, and regard him with infinite disdain if he does not produce something to the fund of the charitable institution they have taken under their wings. The ordinary mendicant can be politely withstood with, but when the begging is done by a young and rather good-looking, and even well-dressed, woman the refusal is not easy. Begging is carried on in this fashion is really a form of brigandage, and is as much unconsecrated as "black-mail" or "ransom." That is why the citizen is making a rather violent protest.

The county cricket season has ended in the anti-climax that not infrequently follows conditions of unusual excitement. Public interest has there been a season so full of thrilling incidents and dramatic surprises; seldom has the finish been so close. But the rain amid which Mr. Swithin has passed from our midst has, among its many other depressions, laid the anticipations of the cricket-loving public low as it has beaten down the crops of corn that should be golden and are sodden.

Some surprise is expressed in theatrical circles at the announcement that "Mr Goodhead," alleged to have obtained tickets on false pretences by representing himself as an editor, and a general practice of supplying free to distribute tickets amongst representatives of the Press, real or pretended, without any rigid scrutiny of credentials. The applicant is supposed to be capable of getting a paragraph in a country rag, but the London house is flooded applications from correspondents of hundreds of journals, both at home and abroad, are invariably disappointed. Whether this fraud easily be imagined, therefore, that the name of a prosecution has caused a commotion in the dramatic world. It would be a pity if it were been assumed that part of the business of an acting manager is to find "doubleads" of journals, and consequently to prosecute for public rush to the box-office begins to flag? It would be easier to understand a prosecution of a supposed "journal" which has borrowed the name he took in vain than a campaign by deluded managers.

It is interesting to learn that Miss Marie Corelli carries in a little silk bag pouted on her neck the message from the Queen intimating that her Majesty "desires all Miss Marie Corelli's new books." Whether the name of Queen has really accomplished the task of reading every one? Has she, for instance, struggled through "Barabbas"? Did she get any further than the scene in which Barabbas is made to scourge Christ with his own hand? And what about the rest of Miss Corelli's belief that this is literally accurate, because the inspired narrative does not state that Pilate ordered someone else to perform this hideous task? A copy of "Barabbas" with her Majesty's annotations would be a priceless curiosity.

THE PRETTIEST WOMAN IN LONDON is said to be Miss Ellaline Terriss, who is the leading actress in the very old English family. She is shortly to appear in a new comedy by the well-known author, Comyns. She is very wealthy, and her only reason for going on the stage is that she is determined to keep hidden away any longer her genius and beauty. These gifts of nature were meant for mankind, and it would be selfish to conceal them. Assisted by a similar motive, George Henry Camp writes to say that he has been cured of his rheumatism by Holloway's Ointment; while by the use of Holloway's Pills he keeps himself healthy in mind and body.

VALE OF DERWENT NATURALISTS' FIELD CLUB.

The fourth, and last for this season, of the field meetings of this club, took place on Monday, the place selected being Offerside, permission to visit the grounds having been kindly granted by the resident agent of Lord Strathmore. An arrangement had previously been made with the members of the Morpeth Field Club that they should join the Derwent Society on this occasion. The Morpeth friends arrived at Rowland's Gill by the train leaving Newcastle at 12 25. From there the members of the two clubs were conducted to the ruins of the old chapel at Friarside, which were inspected with much interest. A brief sketch of its history, as far as it was known, was given within its walls by the president of the club, Mr James F. Clephan. The place next visited was the well-known Gibside Chapel. The visitors who had not before seen the elegant interior were very much interested in it. The acoustic properties of it were tested by one of the party playing a hymn tune on the organ, and the rest joining in the music. The wood of which the pews are made (black cherry tree) and the elegant columns supporting the dome were inspected with much interest.* From the chapel the route was taken by the conservatory and the path through the old rookery, above the steep banks overhanging the Derwent, where formerly stood, in a secluded spot, the beautiful bath-house built by George Bowes about 1760. Here was seen a steep ravine finely clad with trees, the lady fern (Athyrium filix femina). The hall was now reached, after an inspection of which the party sat down to an excellent tea in the servants' hall, which had been kindly granted for the occasion by Mr McIntyre, the assistant agent of Lord Strathmore. The tea was supplied by Mrs Cheesom of the Chapel House, and was thoroughly enjoyed.

Mr Redell, of Morpeth, in a brief reply to a few words of welcome to the Morpeth friends, spoke of the pleasure and which young people might derive by themselves of by not making acquaintance with one or two simple subjects relating to natural history, remarking how much more pleasant their country rambles might be made if they had even a slight knowledge of botany or geology, or both sciences. A short paper on the history of Gibside was then read by the president. Several new members of the society were elected, and the proceedings terminated with a vote of thanks to Lord Strathmore and his agent for their kindness, after which the large oak was visited, many saying it was the largest tree they had ever seen. It is about 17 feet height, and contains about 400 cubic feet of timber. Leaving the oak, a fine view of the terrace, with the chapel at the end, was obtained and much admired, as also the sheet of water called the Low Basin. A shady walk led from here to the Monument, where some interest was shown to the details of its construction as related by the president, which details had been obtained from the original accounts contained in the estate books. From the Monument, by way of the avenue of trees, a visit was paid to the Banqueting House, erected by George Bowes, as a part of the improvements which he made shortly before his death. The view from here was much admired, as at the foot of the steep slope on which it stands is a fine sheet of water, of an octagonal form, about 200 feet in diameter, in which were some pretty fish of a fair size. The last walk in the Rowland's Gill Station brought to a close a very agreeable and pleasantly spent afternoon. About 35 members and friends were present. Among the plants noted were Bartsia Odontites, Malampyrum Pratense, Lysimachia, Nummularia, Alchemella Vulgaris, and Berbera Vulgaris.

CRICKET NOTES.

[By "L.B.W."]

A QUEER COMBINATION AT WHICKHAM.

Ryton sent the strongest team to Whickham on Saturday they have ever probably placed in the field, to bring off their return fixture. The eleven was a combination of Wallsend, Hebburn, Hawdon, Newcastle, Newcastle Grammar School, with Bartram, the old Durham, and Gateshead professional, included. They evidently meant to wipe out old scores with Whickham. But the home club was without the services of the brothers Cook—who were engaged by Benwell to play against Blackhall Mill—and were to enjoy their task with somewhat doubtful feelings. Whickham took first innings, the old members of the team making a confident cricket, but they soon were evidently very nervous with Bartram's delivery, and the latter gentleman claimed the very fair agreegate of 7 for. T. R. Mowbray (23) played a fine innings, but the remainder of his side were soon back in the pavilion, 13 were all they could muster. Ryton were also playing admirably when he was out. Bartram was also playing admirably when he was unfortunately run out. He was apparently in for a good score.

Cud Ryton going in to bat, the Whickham cantain, in the absence of the brothers Cook, put on J. Mowbray and the veteran "Billy" Burn to bowl, and as they were backed up by some of the smartest fielding ever seen on the home ground—every chance being taken being really superb—the combination team were soon back in a sad state for the miserable score of 20. The Whickham team thus retains its unbeaten record at their ground, for now since they have played, 13; won 11; one tie; and one drawn. The return match will show the great bowling strength of Whickham at the present time.

QUESTIONABLE TACTICS.

Apropos of the remarks above concerning the brothers Cook, a Whickham correspondent writes as follows:—"Having young players (of course, the two Cooks were well remunerated for their services) is somewhat new to the Whickham club." All throughout the lengthy career of our club we have never had any assistance from other clubs, with the exception that Mr. T. Richards (now or twice played for Whickham when his own club had no engagement; but this was quite different, as nothing save Mr Richards' more pleasure than a game amongst his old opponents; and, moreover, the engagement was thoroughly understood by the members of the Whickham club. Our members are, I fancy, somewhat annoyed about it, and I should think that the Blackhall Mill club—who were badly beaten—will have something to say about the matter, as there can be no two opinions concerning the two lads—they are a pair of very fine bowlers, and it was decidedly wrong of Benwell to engage them to play against a young club such as Blackhall Mill.

SHOTLEY BRIDGE HAVE TO BE CONTENT WITH A DRAWN GAME.

For their return engagement with the second string of the Benwell Hill Club, Shotley Bridge had the use of the Grounds on Saturday—Shotley Bridge had got together a pretty strong team, except that it included T. D. Dales (Dales Cup winner), and Wood and Mr. Williamson (Consett). Dales was again in good form, and, barring one chance, his 37 not out was an exhibition of finished cricket. It is doubtful if Dales ever played better than he is doing just now, and he is undoubtedly the most consistent scorer to the district. Mr. Shaw's contribution of 16, and Wilkes' 14 (not out) to his credit when the "closure" was brought into force with the total standing at 94 for four wickets. Wood had not a chance to shine, as he was run out before he had scored.

As events turned out, the visitors offered a more stubborn resistance than had been expected, and the Shotley men were unable to bring about the victory which they no doubt thought well within their grasp. Not one of the Benwell side failed to score, and on the occasion of hostilities they had totalled 66, and still had four wickets to fall. The draw, of course, was very much in favour of Shotley Bridge, and another half-hour would probably have given them a win.

AN EXCITING MATCH AT TANFORTH.

The neighbouring clubs of Tanfield and Tanfield played a very close and exciting game on the latter's ground on Saturday, the home visitors just missing the verdict by four runs only. Tanfield batted first, and although only 40 runs were scored, Messrs Parker, Watson, Wallace, and Milburn showed good form. Brown (11) was the only other player to reach four in the home club, but they were not well supported, and consequently only 40 were notched, the two batsmen mentioned above. Wallace and Hall were bowling at their best, and bowled splendidly for the winners. Wallace's analysis reads:—

	O.	M.	R.	W.
Wallace	9	3	5	5

LANCHESTER GOING STRONGLY.

What has come over the Lanchester club of late? They appear to be making a new start, and at the beginning of the season they could scarcely win a match, and now they cannot lose one. At the Lanchester Flower Show, on Wednesday week, the home club polished off Oxhill and Consett Park in easy fashion, and thus won the bat offered by the Flower Show committee. They followed this up by a win next day by inflicting a decisive rawson upon South Moor, as Lanchesterites. The latter put together 69, the most prolific scorers being Simon (14), Crone (13), and Howe (11). With the exception of Smith (7), the visitors could make no stand whatever against the attack of Crone and Sadler, being all dismissed for the paltry score of 16. Bowling analysis:—

	O.	M.	R.	W.
Crone	5	2	3	4
Sadler	3	1	3	3

THE LOCAL TEAM WIN EASILY.

The Cornsay I.O.G.T. team have done exceedingly well during the present season, and at home on Saturday they added to their list of victories by their list of victories. The visitors opened the batting, but out up pretty quickly on the slow bowling of W. Sargent and Nicholson—who have been wonderfully successful in nearly every match—and could only muster 20 as the result of their united efforts. They were not in the smallest bowling, Sargent (33) easily beat the Langley score of 74 by himself, and in conjunction with the lion's share of the honours of the day. J. Lynn (13) also batted well, and Cornsay quickly topped their antagonists' aggregate by no less than 54.

TEMPLETOWN TO THE TRICK.

The Lanchester second team were the visitors to Templetown on Saturday, but they proved no match for the home club. The latter compiled 54, the chief contributors to which were J. Lowes (12), Thornton, Dunn, J. Lowe, and Brown, only one member of the team being credited with a cypher. Lanchester were totally unable to cope with the remarkable bowling of J. Lowes and Dunn, and could only manage 23, the best being Wilson's 9. Good form in the field. The analyses of the Templetown trundlers are appended—

	O.	M.	R.	W.
J. Lowes	7	3	12	5
T. Dunn	7	2	8	5

THE Y.M.C.A. DOWN.

Consett Y.M.C.A. travelled to Oxhill on Saturday with a moderate team to oppose the second string of Oxhill. J. Middleton, Spencer, Hall, Crone, Ellis, and Hunter (10) did well with the bat for the home club, who put together a total of 94. The Y.M.C.A. could only reply with 50, and were thus defeated by 23 runs. Good form in the Oxhill Middlemast (10), Tilley, Spencer, Siddle, and Sheldon.

DUE RECOGNITION.

Dear Sir,—On perusing your last issue I was pleased to learn that the committee of the Consett and District Cricket Club had arranged for the continuation of the services of their gallant little professional, and consequently he will be on the ground for the season 1895. As a member of the trading community of the district, I has only to express the sentiments James pervision on two occasions with the Wednesday, or in other words the Consett team, and from what I there saw it made me follow with deep interest his doings in all other games, and I candidly admit that I have never seen a professional in the district. He has proved himself a fair good bowler and batsman, but as a slow left-hander and change bowler, and safe fielding, that he more particularly shines, and I am pleased to see that the committee of the governing body have seen so beneficial that the fielding of our local players has improved considerably. Mr Wilson has certainly great regret that I learns that on the occasion of James's benefit match the committee have not thought and admirers, and I now wish to suggest to the committee that they avail themselves of the first to offer an appointment on that occasion they might give him a benefit themselves, and so lengthen for him the term of fixture with Wallsend, and final Wednesday game of the season, and then on the togleward the committee a chance of showing their appreciation of his services to the district during the past seven years, without taking up so much of your valuable space with my suggestion, but thanking you in anticipation,—I am, yours respectfully,

W. W. WALLACE.

Dixon Street, Blackfoss, Aug. 30th, 1894.

NEWS.

Signs are not wanting that the season is rapidly drawing to a close, and another fortnight will bring the curtain down on cricket.

I am pleased to hear that James, who has been laid aside with illness for a very long period, is in neutral health and strength.

At Durham, however, Consett will do their utmost to take down the numbers of Chester-le-Street. It should be a rare good game.

Great interest was manifested when it became known last Saturday that Elsewick Works could not raise a team for the Cup tie against Consett. It seems strange when we remember that the "Works" sometimes turns out three or four teams on the same

It was also agreed that the deviations to the plan submitted by Messrs Grundy and Glendinning should not be conceded.

SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

The Surveyor (Mr Jos. Routledge) submitted the following monthly report:—

Gentlemen,—Your workmen have chiefly been engaged during the past month, watering, scraping and dressing up the roads. They have opened out the drain at Oxhill, underneath the North Eastern Railway and they have commenced to take off the hill, and fill up the slack and the hedge on Shield Row Road, behind West Shield Row Villa.

I will require about 100 tons of freestone and 50 tons of limestone to macadamise the road with.

The duplicate plans and estimate for the road and street improvements, also that for the extension to South Moor outfall works are ready for the Local Government enquiry.

I have got one ton of flannelette for precipitating and deodorizing the sewer at South Moor Colliery, and I find it to be a great help for precipitating purposes.

I expect to have the whole of the lamps painted, numbered, and fixed ready for lighting by Saturday September 1st.

We will require a better arrangement both for cleaning and lighting the lamps during this next season.

Several plans have been laid before your Building Committee and they will report on the same.

The following houses are ready, or will shortly be ready for habitation certificates:—

Two houses and shops for Mr Fewster.
One house for Mr John Palmer.
One house and shop for Mr Armstrong.
One house and shop for Mr Nattrass.
One house in Towesley Street for Mr Snaith.
One house in Towesley Street for Mr Bloomfield.
One house in Towesley Street for Mr Dunn.
The report was adopted.

HOUSE FREPOOFE REQUIRED.

Mr Green moved that the Surveyor have power to order 100 tons of freestones and 50 tons of limestone.

Mr Kay seconded.

THE LIGHTING OF THE PUBLIC LAMPS.

The Surveyor pointed out that a better arrangement was required for both lighting and cleaning the public lamps during the forthcoming season.

Mr Smith: May I ask the Surveyor why we do not get the gas to South Moor. Has the mains been laid down yet?

The Surveyor: No we are waiting for the new road being completed.

Mr Smith: It is time this work was done.

The Surveyor: It is not my fault, I have encleavoured to push forward with the work.

The Chairman: South Moor will be attended to in due course.

Mr Smith: I quite understand.

The Surveyor: With regard to the cleaning of the public lamps I think they should be cleaned once every week instead of once a fortnight as monthly.

The Chairman: I've I think so, once every month is too far a stretch. The globes get very dirty during that time.

Mr Green proposed that Messrs Burns and Co be asked to provide two men to light the public lamps, also he said that the globes were cleaned once every week.

Mr Kay seconded.

Agreed to.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

The Inspector (Mr Jos. Routledge) submitted the following report:—

To the Chairman and Members of the Stanley Local Board.

Gentlemen,—I have inspected the whole of the district during the month, and I find that the nuisances are fairly well cleansed out, and the district is in a good sanitary condition.

Several notices have been given to remove nuisances, which have nearly all been attended to.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant.

T. Benson, Medical Officer.

On the motion of Mr Green, seconded by Mr Kay, the report was considered satisfactory.

FINANCE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

This committee presented their financial statement, and recommended that cheques for accounts to the sum of £253 15s 1d should be signed.

It was resolved, on the motion of Mr Kay, seconded by Mr Smith, the report should be adopted, and the necessary cheques signed.

COLLECTOR'S REPORT.

The collector (Mr W. Hewison) reported that during the month he had collected and paid over to the treasurer the sum of £4 16s 4d.

SOUTH MOOR IMPROVEMENTS.

Mr Green pointed out that the contractor (Mr Johnson) for the South Moor improvements was not pushing on with the work as satisfactorily as he would like to see.

Mr Smith: Yes. I think the contractor might push on with it a bit's more quickly.

The Chairman (to the Surveyor): What do you think about this work.

The Surveyor: Well, the contractor is going on with the same; but very slowly.

Mr Sirrs: We must take into account that the weather of late has been very bad, and outside work has been interfered with. I do not wish to shield the contractor; but I have seen many a time stopped when I have seen the men leaving time. The heavy part of the work is completed now, and the weather was fine. He thought the contractor would be able to finish the contract by the specified time, if he would only make an effort, and push on with the work.

Mr Kay: The weather is fine now; and it should not prevent the contractor from getting on with the work.

Mr Smith: I should like to see the work done.

The Chairman: What do you suggest should be done?

Mr Kay: How long has the contractor got now to finish the work?

Mr Green: About eight weeks.

Mr Smith: If that is so, the contractor will have to push on with it, and get the work done.

Mr Green: How much herding and channelling is there done?

The Surveyor: About 1,100 yards is completed. The Chairman: The contract was for 1,600 yards.

The Surveyor: Yes.

Mr Smith: There will be no harm if the Surveyor was to write the contractor urging him to push on with the work. The footpath is in very unsatisfactory condition, and not safe to walk on in daylight, alone in the dark.

Mr Green: I shall not withhold the cheques that is to be signed for the contractor to-day.

Mr Smith: I don't think we can do that. It is for work done.

Mr Green: The contractor is not doing the work according to the specification and contract.

Mr Kay suggested that the whole of the members should visit themselves into a committee, and go and inspect the work, and also meet Mr Johnson, the contractor. That would be a better plan than Let Mr Johnson know the complaints that is to hand from the people.

Mr Green: I should not be a bad idea to do so.

The Surveyor: Supe I spoke to the contractor about this work the other day, and he promised that in getting the place tidied up for the safety of the public.

It was agreed that the suggestion of Mr Kay should be carried out.

THE SURVEYOR'S INCREASE OF LAND.

A letter was read from Mr N. Clark, Beamish Park, pointing out that as the Board had not accepted the offer made to the Surveyor at the March 3rd, 1893, the Board would have to consider the negotiations for the purchase of the land for the extension of the cemetery at once.

It was decided that the letter should lie on the table.

WHERE IS THE VOTING LISTS FOR SOUTH MOOR?

A complaint was made to the effect that the voting lists had not been posted in the customary place in the South Moor district.

The Clerk was requested to write the assistant overseer about the matter.

THE SURVEYOR'S HOLIDAYS.

It was agreed that the Surveyor should be granted 14 days' leave of absence.

This was all the business.

HOMES FOR AGED MINERS

THE SCHEME DISCUSSED AT DURHAM

After the miners' council meeting at Durham on Saturday had finished, a conference of delegates favourable to the establishment of aged miners' homes, was held. Mr Thomas Hepburn presided.

Mr Wilson, M.P., was voted to the chair, and opening the proceedings, expressed himself very favourable to the movement that had come to be subject the provision of cottage homes for aged miners, where they could spend their declining days in comfort. He urged upon the delegates to give the movement their most practical and sympathetic support. He called upon Mr Thomas Burt and Mr Fenwick, to state what progress had been made in furtherance of the scheme.

Mr Hoppee stated that at the last conference held in the same hall some two months ago, a small committee, consisting of Mr Gennigan, of Tindale, Mr Darby, of North Hetton, and himself, were appointed to take steps to urge the question upon the attention of the executive committee. The committee invited a deputation of supporters of the scheme to meet them, and place before them means of procedure. A deputation consisting of Mr George Rooney, Pelling; Mr Daniel Rowland, and himself, met the committee and had a very full and friendly interchange of views. A few days after the interview he (Mr Hoppee) received a communication to Mr Steel of the deputation's suggestions, with the request that each member of the ex committee should be furnished with a copy. In that letter of suggestions it was urged that the first course of inquiry should be to ascertain with accuracy and care, what the scheme would actually cost. In pursuance of that idea he was suggested that branch committees should be requested to make the fullest inquiries in their respective districts as to suitable properties that might be for sale, and report upon proper forms the results of their inquiries to the executive committee with full particulars as to price, &c., and that the meeting already built were not available, to ascertain the cost of building the same, and when all the information had been obtained, to make that the basis of calculation as to the cost of the scheme. Mr Hopper urged that it would not be fair to act upon any more speculative estimate of the cost than could be judged by actual facts, and with such facts drawn from every part of the Society's jurisdiction it would be safe to calculate the cost for the consideration of the members' trip. It was further suggested that circulars, with questions, should be issued to ascertain the views of aged miners themselves upon the general scheme. Mr Hopper spoke highly of the courtesy and frankness of the executive and general officers, and their readiness to listen to any pertinent suggestion.

After Mr Hoppee's statement, it was moved —"That the thanks of the meeting be accorded to the executive committee, and that they be respectfully requested to take effective steps to be followed by full local inquiries into the cost of the scheme for the information of the members. This was seconded and heartily adopted.

Mr Gallimore, of Bowdon, speaking as a member of the executive committee, said the general meeting that they were in earnest sympathy with the movement, and every possible effort would be made to carry it to a successful issue.

Mr Hogg, of West Auckland; Mr Cann, of Castle Eden; Mr Gennigan, of Tindale; Mr Darby, of North Hetton; Mr Dobson, of Chopwell; and others spoke in support of the scheme.

In the course of the discussion the hope was expressed that similar conferences would be held in Northumberland and Durham in the north of the county.

It was decided to hold another conference for Durham after the rising of the next council meeting, when a large attendance of delegates is expected.

A vote of thanks to the chairman concluded the proceedings.

CHESTER-LE-STREET PETTY SESSIONS.

Wednesday, Aug. 29th.—Before Col. Surtees and other Justices.

PETER'S PONY.

William Temple, the younger, was charged with ill-treating a pony, the property of Peter Say, on the 2nd August, and also with doing damage to the same animal, the property of Peter Say, to the amount of £2 2s. Mr F. Reed appeared for the prosecution, Mr Ed. Charlton, Newcastle, defending.

Peter Say, the owner of the pony, belonged to him. He did not see the pony on the day named, but saw it on the next day. It was then suffering from a wound in the right fore leg, and also from a wound in front of the hind leg. The pony was suffering from exhaustion. He took it to the house for Lord Durham's veterinary to see. The veterinary surgeon something to relieve the pain. About ten days after that he saw it again sent to Bowes's house for the veterinary to examine the damage.

Cross-examined by Mr Charles: The pony was the best tempered pony in the world. It had never shown temper, and did not behave badly on the stable. He did not know the name the pony go. Temple fell off the pony, and is fell on Temple.

Robert Blakelock, groom, said he took the pony to the stable, and on his way, at his request, Temple got on its back, kicked it, and threw it down.

Cross-examined: He took the pony to Bowes's house. He did not suggest that the wound were made by Temple by his falling down.

William Alanley said he was standing near the pony when he saw Swinbank with the pony. The boy was dressed in a jersey, and Temple was without, caught the pony, and at the boy's request lifted him on to the pony's back, and when he fell down upon him. He never kicked the pony as had been suggested. He only struck it once with a short stick.

Robert Pace said he was with Temple, and—to the best of his belief—it was the pony. The boy called the assistance of Temple, who went to him. Temple never kicked the pony at all.

Cross-examined: He knew that Temple was a skilled horseman. The pony was in a canter when it fell, and Temple brought it back to the boy.

George Clifford said he was not with the others, but happened to be on the road at the time. He saw Temple get on the pony, and saw the pony fall down on him. Temple did not kick the pony at all. He struck it once with a stick.

Cross-examined: He thought Temple's leg was broken.

Mr Lee, M.R.C.V.S., Newcastle, said he went to see the pony, and had seen the pony on the 9th August. He found a wound upon the pony to falling upon the mandamised road. They were not at all consistent with kicking, but quite consistent with falling.

Cross-examined: He could not on any account say that the wounds were caused by the hind leg of the pony as described by the witnesses.

By Mr Clarke: The wounds could not have been caused by the pony striking the plates or heel plates.

Mr Wm. Temple, M.R.C.V.S., father of the defendant, said the defendant never wore boots with toe or heel plates.

The Bench at this stage dismissed the case, the damage case failing to be proved.

A PRIVILEGE CASE.

Benjamin Hope was charged under the Poaching Prevention Act with an offence at Chester-le-Street, on the 17th inst. C. C. Elwood said he met defendant in Middle Chare, and on searching him found two rabbits, quite warm, in his possession.

Defendant said he got two rabbits from his uncle on the 15th inst. in order to try his dog. He shot the dog at the rabbits in the house.—Discharged. The Bench remarking that the case ought not to have been brought before him.

A DOG CASE.

William Wallen was charged with trespassing in pursuit of game on the Birtley iron Company's land, on the 11th inst. Mr Stewart of the company said he saw defendant trespassing on the land, and charged him with trespassing in pursuit of ouzles, which he found in defendant's pocket, who did not appear, was fined 7s 6d and costs.

BREWSTER SESSIONS.

CHESTER-LE-STREET.

The annual licensing meeting of the Justices was held in the Petty Sessions room—Mr T. W. Kerrick-Walker in the chair.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

Supt. Rutherford stated that the population of the division was 33,077. There were 59 full-licensed houses, seven beerhouses, and seven wine and beer "off." The proportion of licenses to population was to each license, 398; and to each public and beerhouse, 435. He objected to the renewal of the licenses of the Pelton Fell, Beach Plats, and the Red Lion Inn, Ouston. During the past four years there were beerhouses keg or had been convicted—the beer-house-keeper for permitting gaming; he had since left the house; one of the publicans had been convicted of drunkenness, the other three for selling adulterated spirits.

THE PLOUGH INN.

Mr A. T. Oven, Sunderland, appeared on behalf of the Earl of Durham, owner of the Plough Inn, and stated briefly that the application of his landlord to re-build the premises was refused.

THE RED LION.

Supt. Rutherford said he understood that the owners of the Red Lion intended to re-build that place.

With the exception of the two places named, which were adjourned for the production of plans of the proposed improvements, the whole of the licenses were renewed.

THE BRIDGE INN.

Mr Thos. Lambert applied for an alteration, and structural, repairs to the Bridge Inn at Chester-le-Street. The owners proposed to give up a portion of their ground in order to straighten and widen the road, and to erect a new and handsome property over the road at that point. This had already met with the approval of the County Council and the Highway Board. He understood that there were some objections on the ground that the application was premature, but no opposition from a-fit to a-seven days' license. That was not so.

Mr Fred Hurd, and Mr Percy Parry appeared on behalf of adjoining landowners, but as they had neglected to give notice of their objections, they could not be heard.

A large deputation of the Temperance Party appeared in court, to oppose the application; but as soon as Supt. Rutherford suggested a slight alteration to the plan, to which Mr Lambert at once agreed, the opposition fell through, and considered the alterations would be a decided public improvement, and granted the application.

LANCHESTER.

These sessions we held yesterday (Thursday) at Lanchester—Councillor J. Annandale presiding—and lasted for nine hours, the court not rising till eight p.m. The members were Messrs Daley, groom, Cossett, beer and wine off; Joseph Murray, Hedley, grocer, of Middle Martin, South Moor, general dealer, beer off; Geo. S. Hobson, Catchgate, grocer and confectioner, spirits off; and Jos Robinson, West Stanley, chemist and druggist, medicated wines off, were granted, and all the rest of the applications were rejected. NOTES FROM STANLEY DISTRICT.

[By "Observer."]

The readers of my notes from this district would notice that last week's notes had not been sent in, want of space. This accounts for them being late and rather out of joint. Books I began to write these "Stanley Notes" I have endeavoured to follow all matters of interest week by week which occur in the district, and which may be of interest. Of course, it must be done in a brief way required to be printed, as other districts require their share of space.

The topic of conversation this week is concerning the Brewster Sessions. There is a diversity of opinion on the various applications for Stanley district. Some people think that there is publics would not increase the sale of drink; others affirm that it would, and that "Stanley would be Merry" think it will be a flagrant disgrace if the magistrates grant the licenses for the two applications near to the Parish Church, as the service on the week cause interruption to the services, and the Sunday School near the Church is not in accordance with sacred things. Another point in connection with the "publics" is this: If working men reside a short distance from the "publics" they would refrain from spending so much time in them, there would be less adulteration to our beverages, and others who may come from a distance and need refreshments; but at present the houses get crowded with people that live close by.

Stanley Floral and Horticultural Show was held on Saturday last. The exhibits were of a good class. The weather was favourable, and a large number of visitors patronised the 25th yearly gathering, which took place in a field belonging to Mr G. Hall, Stanley Crossroads. The interesting contest proved a special attraction, besides the usual brass band competition which is at present a great favourite with the public. Also the form of a choral competition. Mr Foster, Tanfield Lea, was the judge. The results were:—Burnopfield Primitive Methodist Choir, 1st; Pennycuicke Baptist, 2; Dipton Primitive Methodist, 3.

The Beamish Wesleyan Society held their chapel anniversary on Sunday last, when were interesting and impressive sermons were preached morning and evening—by Mr George Parkinson, of Shotley Bridge, in the afternoon by Mr Hall, of the Wesleyan connexion, and is admired for his earnest and methodist preaching. Good congregations were present.

The Rev J. Crawshaw, circuit minister, preached his farewell sermons at the West Stanley Wesleyan Chapel, on Sunday last. Large congregations were attended. Mr Crawshaw carries with him the good wishes of many who have profited from his counsel and ministration. He is a fine, earnest, faithful preacher. His sermons are well arranged, and an abundant of sound information on all matters pertaining to theological questions.

The West Stanley Roman Catholics have closed a successful mission. The building was on some occasions crowded to excess by Fathers J. O'Brien and L. Davenport conducted the services, which have been very orderly and well arranged.

The third portion of the West Stanley Co-operative Society's trip was to Scarborough on Saturday last. The excursionists numbered 1,350. The weather was of a good class, which bespeaks great credit to the local residents who have done their level best in this competition.

P.C. Vickers, of the West Stanley staff of policemen, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant for the Annfield Plain district. We congratulate him on his success. He is known to be diligent in his duties, and he has been active in his sphere of labour while in this district.

The Primitive and Wesleyan Sunday-school scholars of Tanfield Lea held their annual tea and field-day on Saturday. 340 children partook of the excellent provisions, which are annually provided at the expense of Mrs W. J. Argent, of Sonningdale Park. Enjoyable games were indulged in until darkness closed the proceedings.

LANCHESTER ASSESSMENT COMMITTEE.

Annandale, of the firm of Messrs Annandale and sons, paper manufacturers, Shotley Bridge and Lintzford, appeared, and raised no objection to the remarks of the prosecution of the Tanfield Parish had increased the assessment of Liftford to the maximum. MORE MODERN MIRACLES.

A Dewsbury Chronicle reporter remarks on the number of recently published accounts of cures effected by general consent "Miracles," testimony following testimony over so wide an area that satisfactory solution is always difficult.

The case that I investigated the other day bears the reporter's view that what is true in matters of Stainsliffe Road, Dewsbury. It is of great interest. Numbers of persons are aware that they should be ailing, but what is less known to them is primarily the matter with them. Something oppresses them and takes away their zest for life. Their head, their stomach, their liver, or nerves, "morpheans," and weakness. They try one thing after another, and sometimes they benefit a little from them. There is a cure, however, as we now know, but it is somewhat rare. Like other medicines.

This was the case with Mrs. Haigh—a lady of great respectability and obvious intelligence. Mrs Haigh had been ailing and had spent a considerable about her ever since her last attack of bronchitis. She tried to shake it off, but without avail. Then her attention was drawn to the wonderful efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Her curiosity was aroused, her interest excited; she determined to put Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to the test. What is the result? She took them according to directions, and her personal evidence to the value of these pills, attested by the great improvement which followed her, is: "I can truly say; they have done me a great deal of good." The above is a sample of a large number of similar cases which have yielded to the wonderful efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an unfailing cure for rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxy, St. Vitus' dance, nervous headache, prostration from any cause, the after effects of the female sex, and in men affect a radical cure in cases arising from overwork, or excesses of any kind. They are sold by all chemists, or may be had direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, 46, Holborn Viaduct, London, at 2s 9d a box, or six boxes 13s 9d. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold loose, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this or any form is trying to defraud; the wooden box must be in a pink wrapper, bearing the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Not a purgative. 98p.
