The Consett Guardian is the only Local Newspaper published in a District embracing a population of considerably more than 50,000, employed not only in the extensive iron works and collieries in Consett, Blakely, Lodge, Tharston, and Worsley, but in the surrounding agricultural villages; and among all ranks and classes of the inhabitants. It is a popular organ of political and general information, devoted to the diffusion of useful knowledge, and the social and moral elevation of the people. Printed in Newcastle it has the use of the best machinery at its disposal, and whilst its news is supplied by its own Reporters and Correspondents, the Proprietor has an arrangement with the Electric Telegraph Company by which its news is brought down to the hour of publication, so that its first issues on Friday evenings acquaint the Newcastle and other daily papers which only have the same news in the following morning. It thus combines all the advantages of which such a newspaper is capable, and affords a medium of the most extensive and beneficial publicity.
