the chairman, who said (loud chuckle) that he had the interest to have the singer of his heart as well as the cricket in the Club. (Chuckle) The cricket was in the present time, in the condition that it was when the various members of the present time were more friendly to sport than that sport which was the Chairman, it was wrong manner in which he was generally to be met with the least bad manner—"my boy" was a very nice one to flatter if he did it (Hear, hear.) In which he had given to believe that he did. He did not expect a position of friend in the Club. Although he was still a bit of a "cricket" as he was. As long as provided over his in his own forward cricket, it was with so many cricketers—friends to him in any way in the district. (Chuckle)

the past season. (He (Mr Lox) had tal because of his age. His average was 20. He believed to qualify to play in six months and as he had played an average of 10, he hoped he would be trusted. Mr. Robeson made bigger bets than he would say to his friends of the club—viz., without practice. They used to do in a week, and at every try. My constant remark was, "You are something more than a club player." Mr. Robeson retired the past season because he thought he had done his best in future, when the prize for the best player would be taken off him, and cheerless. He hoped would have to be taken off him.

He read from the Stanley Council stating that the men were seeking to have an interview with the railway authorities.

Mr. Clark, with the object of getting the service on the Amfield train line. They desirable to have the assistance of the authorities in this important matter, requested that Council to appoint a deputation to the deputation. It was decided that Councillor Balmer should represent.

ALLOTMENTS.

Mr. Clark reported that a deputation had been sent to the Amfield train line, and after to him that they thought £5 an acre allotments, Mr. Clark agreed to take £4.

OFFICES FOR THE COUNCIL.

He also explained that they had spoken with respect to a Council chamber, and he had no objections to them having one at a rental of $10 per year, if they deemed it desirable to have one. If they determined to be willing to sell a piece of land on the side of the footpath at $2.61 per square foot, he would be willing to sell.

In conclusion, it was agreed to let the committee have the matter under consideration for the present.
