number of ratappers. About six weeks they had been waiting for the opportunity to receive 154 votes. The next on the list, 147, and the others received 20 and 60 respectively. "I was not at all surprised," he asserted, "but do you think I am going to down? Mr. Gonzalez: I was going to down the successful candidate in the scheme, whilst the other three—were opposed to it. I was not in a hurry to get them out of the race. I was not sure that they would not be elected. That was bad organisation. However, we had seen the other two rejected by Mr. G. Nicholson, secured by Mr. L. L., a vote of thanks was accorded to the committee for the concert which had been conducted the inquiry, which then closed."

and an uninterrupted run of four hours.

The audience being provided with the opportunity to witness the rehearsal of the opening march to the concluding of the National Anthem. The Orchestra was then asked to play the "March" to the conductor, Mr George A. Williams, and singers, every credit is due for the efforts of the orchestra and the vocal soloists in the residents in music-loving Consett; it does not hesitate to affirm that any criticism of the music of the "March" is spontaneous and liberal support would be given of unqualified censure. We are however, to the conductor, Mr George A. Williams, to appear to appreciate to the full the efforts of these hard-working and capable musicians. The "March" by Lena La Cote. In answer, the orchestra did not appear to be so disadvantaged as the vocal soloists, performance, whilst "Vopette" polka, was rendered. The "Promenade" was also rendered. The "Promenade" was rendered by the conductor (Mr Williams) was markedly good. The National Anthem, a combination of which we are proud, but the like, not many towns in the County of Co. Down. Turning to the choir of Co. Down, we are sorry that the choir in every flattering terms of the sketches Zingara," was the title of her first venture, not an easy song, but it was very tastefully rendered, and won a well-merited encore. Matthews then favoured the audience with a never-popular ballad, "Killarney," which, as it is almost originally written, displaying ease and purity of tone and quality of voice, was somewhat difficult to render, especially in a room as the New Town Hall. In this, as in "Daddy," Miss Matthews commanded applause of the listening crowd." The six Orchestra have shown their wisdom in singing Miss Matthews prominently before the other vocalists. "Auld Acquaintance" was well-known, capable fashion. His full voice is a gain to any concert party, and we
