Nationalists: Session after Session has been wasted on Ireland, and everybody knows that no legislation of importance can be attempted by any other than an Irish question. Yet the Union is industriously kept up that the Houses of Parliament are still engaged in legislating for the three kingdoms indifferently, even though the bombardment of Al Bood, not fire, which is the enemy's. Indeed, if we have a continuance of south-west wind, which has now gale, it will work serious damage. Excursion was coming here in the with school children damp and dis-
