Monday, June 10th — Before His Honor
Mr. Mead

Messrs Phillipsop Bros., grocers, &c., of Durham Road, Blackhill, sued John Rule, iron worker, Outlier's Hall, for 11s 10d for goods supplied.—There was also a counter-claim by Mrs Rule against the plaintiff for 13s 6d for work done. Mr J.

A CONTRACT AND HIS MATERIAL.
WHILE WESTFIELD V. BIGGS.
John Edgar, owner of Elm Park was proceeding against the defendant, John Park, for material sold to the amount of $112.12. His Honor: What does this material consist of Plaintiff? The amount is owing for stone that was sold to the defendant. He could prove that the defendant had been in the plaintiff's home.—Defendant stated that he had a claim against the plaintiff for life bed quarrying 25 loads of stone.—His Honor: I will adjourn the case for a month so as to allow the defendant to get the stone and for the defendant to give particulars of his claim.

A BEE'S TRANSACTION.

HARVEY V. GREGORY.
William Henry Harvey, of Concord, sued Henry Gregory, of Concord, for $100 on 10th Feb. 1896, through the supply of beer.—Plaintiff said the beer was supplied to the defendant in the shape of refreshment whilst he was carrying out a contract of work.—Defendant denied owing the money.—Plaintiff said he had paid for the beer, and that the plaintiff had paid for.—His Honor: Have you got a receipt?—Defendant: The plaintiff never gave any receipt.—His Honor: I give judgment for the plaintiff the sum to be paid as a reasonable price for the beer.—
APPLICATION FOR AN ADMINISTRATION ORDER.
Charles Rodd, miner, of Andrew's House, Market Hill, made application for an administration order in the estate of the late John Rodd, deceased. Rodd stated that he was the sole executor of the late John Rodd, deceased, and that he was entitled to pay 10s in the pound as rate of fee per month.—His Honor stated that the principal creditor would not accept the offer.

therefore could not grant the application, as there would be no money to pay the costs. The defendant was ordered to pay $250 in the pound if His Honor would make an order for the debt to be cleared off by per month.—His Honor: I will make an order for you to pay $25 in the pound for the next 12 months.—MANIFESTED TO HIS DEBT.

SCOTT AND COT V. PROCTOR—Messrs Scott, Company, of Newcastle, sent John P. A. Pleaser, of Consett, for the sum of £7 6s.—His Honor: The defendant has the money, and can pay the debt. The defendant was a pleaser, and carried contracts. At the present time he had a deal of work in hand at Consett, Anfield, Farnley, West Stanley.—His Honor: Why has he not taken the money?—The defendant: I have not taken it. Simply because the defendant promised to pay the amount.—Mr McCarty sat as appeared for the defendant, and he was prepared to pay £4 in a month, and the balance by August.—His Honor: The

ANOTHER GROCER'S CLAIM.

ROBERT V. KIRKPATRICK—George James Robinson as plaintiff against defendant John Kirkpatrick, of Blacksville, sued John Kirkpatrick, grocer, of Blacksville, the sum of $18 34 for goods supplied.—Plaintiff stated that the debt was transacted by purchase from the defendant, and the ledger was produced which showed the balance due. Defendant testified and declared that her husband never got the money. It was his mother's debt, and she had just gone paying it 12 for a similar debt.—His Honor cannot accept that statement, seeing that the plaintiff has not been paid for the goods in the case.—Defendant: I wish to know why Robinson has not instituted these proceedings?—Plaintiff: I have repeatedly seen the debt and he has continually refused to pay me for the goods.—His Honor: How long?

know?—Defendants: Well I do know that he promised to pay.—His Honour: I think you better be quiet.—His Honour found for plaintiff per month.

PASTURING HORSES.

COOPER V. HARRIS.

This adjourned case was again gone into. Cooper, labourer, of Crookhall, proceeded against William Harris, cartman, of Gibson Street, for the sum of 2s being the balance for tax.

defendant's horses in complainant's field last year. Mr. J. McCaskey (Durham) defended. — A witness George Walton stated that he was present when the horses were sold and that he had paid $50 for the season. — In answer to McCaskey, witnesses said that the agreement was on the 7th May last year on McDermott Road; it was only the three of them present. The largest number of horses were sold in the first season. The plaintiff had no horses in the 6th time. It was true Cooper had horses in the 5th. Witnesses judged with Cooper and knew about the transaction. Harris wanted to know if the first season was the best season. It was for the season. — His Honor said he had sufficient evidence, and gave judgment for the plaintiff for the full amount to be paid in 20 days.

DAMAGES, $100. — HENRY LITTLETON, v. BROWN.

John Littleton, farmer, of Iveson farm,

Leads proceeded against William Brown, for the sum of $250, being the amount of damage caused by a great flock of geese which he had driven into the defendant's house.—Mr McCarthy (Counsel for the plaintiff, and Mr Robson, of Mr Weir's office (Counsel) appeared for the defendant.—The case was heard by the judge, Mr Justice Lindley for $3, for work done during the hearing.—Plaintiff said he was the tenant of the farm known as Iveton Farm, near Redwell. In one of his fields there were four cottages, each with a garden, and a large barn and a hen house. The fowls were continually trespassing field adjoining the houses. He was claiming damages that were caused from the 15th of April to the 1st of May. He had seen the hens in the cottages and in the garden, and in the hen house. Through the hens trespassing they spoiled the crops. There would be about three acres, and the hens all over the field. The defendants had lived was very old grass land. For a distance of 12 feet from the defendant's house he had never prepared land for crops, simply because it was always dry by reason of the fact that he had taken a spring of water because they had come to the surface and eggs from him. It was true that he sent out a claim for rent for the garden, but it was never been paid through the Consett Iron Company, which was the person to whom he was to pay a particular land. He did not engage the defendant to help him with the hay, and never told the defendant that they could keep hens—Mr. Nathan, the auctioneer and valuer, Consett, stated that he had seen the defendant feed his pigs and considerable damage by the trespass of the hens. There would be about a ton less hay gathered would have been if the poultry had been kept from the garden. He valued the garden at £100. Further evidence having been given, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant.

A LANDLORD AND HIS LODGER

LITTLE V. WATSON.

Matthew Little, a married Placod agent against a woman named George employed as a miner at Annfield Plain, for the £1 he due for board and lodgings. Mr. J. M. (Comet) defended. Plaintiff alleged that she had been employed by him for some time to work. Defendant came to lodge with him in 1890, and remained with him till February. There was a balance of 15s. due. When she left the house he was asked by his wife for the 15s. and she refused to give it. He asked her to sign a receipt, which she refused to do. She then went to the police. Defendant was examined by Mr. McCartney: six sons at home. It was true that he took off the road in June last, and he remained until the month of February. Mr. Robson told the jury, employment was not proved. Defendant always got his wages. He was no with Galt the cashier, at the colliery, had drawn the defendant's wages once a month having in a letter from Mr Galt stated that the defendant's name was plaintiff went on to say that a man named used to draw all the wages for those in the defendant always got his own money. The man having said this, his wife got a check week from the defendant. The defendant 3d per day. His wife told that entered the amount that was owing to the defendant defendant having been sworn, testified that the man having said this, his wife got a check the show people as at Annfield Plain the men, and the plaintiff's son took him to the The plaintiff got him work at one of the collieries earned 3 per day. The plaintiff kept his pocket money. The man Surtees was another man and he generally drew the whole of the

The several workers in the house, and the wife put the money into her pocket. The money was found in a box in the front of the house. The wife had fresh lodgings, and left last February. The wife asked him for the money, and he declared that he did not own anything. The wife told him that she never saw anything about board and lodgings. Mr. McCune said the wife had been taken in, it being the case was adjourned so as to all evidence to be obtained.—His Honor said the case being adjourned for one month.

advanced the wages of the stone breakers at The breakers had not asked for an advance, so the proprietors to all the more appreciate the quarrymen now working briskly, and the demand for stone breakers.
