AT BLACKHILL.
 Telegraphic Address: Postal Address:
 CHRYSTOFFER, Blackhill. GEO. J. CHRYSTOFFER, Blackhill.

HAVING taken over the above Business has been carried on successfully for Half century by my deceased Father and I beg to intimate that it is my intention to sell the same as hitherto at the old Address for good Horses and Conveyances, I have shared with the confidence and patronage has been so liberally bestowed upon my Hearses and Mourning Coaches, G.

A Competent Man will be in constant attendance at the Yard from 7 a.m. until 9 p.m., who may be left, which shall have prompt attention.

Blackhill, April 14th, 1904.

Mr ARMSTRONG: Then he is not a dupe.
Mr Wood thought it was questionable.

Mr SULMER: Why was the lad sent to school?

Mr Wood: Why was he refused admission to Catholic School? One school can't

Mr COLQUHOUN: There are a certain children who, through their parents run from one place to another, are dull.

Mr BULMER: Is it not a fact that teacher of the National Schools cannot be the child away for not paying the school?

Mr WOOD: The child has been refused to the Catholic Schools.

Father THOMSON: The teachers do

Mr BELMEX: You ought to admit the then esquire into the circumstances.

Mr GREEN thought the same.
Mr ARMSTRONG: The boy is not a delinquent.
Mr BELMER: Why keep the boy 12 months then turn him away?

Mr GREEN was of opinion that Mr D was making a very poor excuse to get out of Mr ARMSTRONG said he did not blame Thompson for what had been done.

After Mr Wood had read another portion of the Act, the Board adjourned, having sat 3 hours.

"In the morning of life, in the opening
These lovely young flowers were called
To the regions of bliss, with the angels
While they were more precious than riches
In loving memory of Ada Florence, beloved of Thomas and Margaret HAZEN, Sr.

"Her illness was short, her sufferings
We miss the sweet look of her innocent
Short was her stay with us below,
And loth we were to let her go."
