THE "BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL" ON WHISKY 261

WHISKY—The British Medical Journal in an instructive article on the change of taste in the consumption of spirits observes:—"The chief cause of the recent popularity of whisky, in no doubt, the fact that the medical profession now very extensively recommend it, whenever alcohol is required, as being, when fully matured by age, one of the best of all alcoholic stimulants."

Important condition of the proper maturing of spirits is receiving the attention of the trade will be apparent to the general public, that it is impossible to enter any of the large towns of England without observing important buildings skirting the railway or river which formerly were used for the storage of wines, rums, brandies and other purposes, and which now are devoted exclusively to the storage and maturing of Whisky. As an instance, on entering the metropolis by the London and North-Western Railway, take the immense establishments at Chalk Farm, originally the good department of the London and North-Western Railway Company, which, with the imposing locomotive "round house," have all been converted into whisky bonds in the occupation of Messrs. W. & A. Gilbey, and where, it is asserted, they have upwards of 10,000 bottles of whisky undergoing that maturing which, as we have stated, is an essential element in its quality, and which age alone will give.—"The British Medical Journal," December 17th, 1881. 261

THE UNDERMENTIONED "Castle Grand" Whiskies are offered as very choice specimens of old Scotch and Irish Whiskies. They have been thoroughly matured by W. & A. Gilbey in their Bonded Stores, and represent a portion of the Stock specially referred to by the "British Medical Journal."

- A DELICIOUS BEVERAGE AND TONIC.

Strongly recommended by the Medical Faculty. An Immense Benefit is experienced after taking it; the Freshly Invigorated, and no ill effects follow.

TESTIMONIALS.

Sir,—A short time since I was induced by the novelty to send for a bottle of your Liebig's Extract of Meat Wine. I was perfectly acquainted with the Streptococcus Caries, and not quite a stranger to the vigorous and fortifying properties of malt wine, therefore, of a natural curiosity to test both when blended.

The man who can furnish a remedy sure, certain and harmless, for the lassitude which follows constant work is a benefactor of his species, and may be said to have added many years of usefulness to the lives of useful men. Your extract, if a success, and when more generally known will be used by all lovers of the word "YOUTH."

As you are aware I sent for a dozen of your Extra Med. and Malt Wine, which, in a few days, pulled me miraculously. Three or four glasses of it daily have altered and restored me to better health than ever: "with the assistance of a doctor."

Enclosed you have a check. Please send me two dozen the "Extract." With thanks for your prompt attention my last.—Yours truly, I am, Sir,
