

Upwards of 7,000 copies of the second

[illegible]

THE CHURCH-RATE BILLS.—The second John Trevelyan's Abolition Bill is a great improvement on the first. It has postponed his May day, and Mr Newdegate his Church Bill to the same date.

YOUNG IRELAND'S LOYALTY.—The first of a handbill which has been extensively circulated in the north of Ireland is headed:—“Fellow-countrymen: In the name of the Father, Amen, we beg to inform you no system of rejoicing on the day of the being married to the daughter of a Danes your forefathers whipped at Conlar; or

A LAWYER'S DODGE.—A lawyer comes in Lincoln's in-Field, with a creditor who wants to avoid. There was no possibility of the lawyer did not lose his presence or directly resolved what to do, knowing the man. "That's a beautiful man, you lawyer." "Do you think so?" "Yes, he's the best!" The creditor, highly flattered, said. The lawyer glared, round the corner, and was right in a moment.

Mr. Henry, this American sculptor, and "Libyan Sibyl" attracted so much at the International Exhibition, has just come of a statue of "Saul," heretofore to be believed. Mr. E. M. Ward will probably have the Academy two pictures: one having for subject Charlotte Corday before her execution, and the other represents the Foundlings' visit to the Altehrathen.

The House of Commons will be asked to contribute £2,000 for the purchase of the history of England, 1550 for editing the works of Bunyan, and £400 for editing the archives of Venice. This will be a charge of £2,500 devoted to the abstracts of State papers, and £250 for the purchase of the charge of the consolidated department of the year 1863-64 will be £20,231.

FINE ART GOSPEL.—Mr. Gibson is engaged upon a statue of Hebe. Mr. M. M. M. statue of a Naiad, larger than life.

The total cost this year of the tributes and envelopes for the Post-£28,000. Of this sum, £19,000 will go for labels, and the printing of about 100,000. The Government's most important officials, including the wife of the viceroy, are expected to be present, and the postage to distributors is estimated at £10,000.

THE ARMY.—On Thursday showing the total number of battalions of the British army, the Indian Local En-

[illegible]

THE UNION AND EMANCIPATION TUE.—The following resolution has been adopted by the Union and Emancipation Society, to the Premier,
Representative, the Attorney-General, House of Commons:—"That the and Emancipation Society of Man-feelings of humiliation that certain some members of the British House concerned in the illegal enterprise of

[illegible]

...the companies of the line, were pressed confidence in their own safety to themselves and the public sought. Eleven rounds had been fired—too rapid, as the event proved;—which consisted of fills, of gunpowder, the ever-heated, contained the powder to explode, and blown from the cannon's mouth in clothes had become ignited, and as they were impelled, and as they turned several times before they struck the ground at a spot upon which they were standing with much courage, a young man, with his hands the burning clothes, and both the injured man, having

TO THE PRINCESS

Light dance the waves as they l
leerers play;
Our England's bells ring gladly
high to day;
Our Queen hath lifted her saddened
her tears,
For thou bringest joy to her wi
for future years.

Come from the North, with thy smile so frank and free;
Be loyal and true to our noble
the,

Lo! his home to such in its loving
 has known;
 And sweeter the light of his own
 of his throne.
 Thousands of voices welcome the pray
 For Heaven's blessing poured to them in day.
 May thy summer sun be clear and morn is bright,
 And thy life unshadowed by sto
 perfect light.
 Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

MR. COBDEN, M.P.

[illegible]

means necessary for sustaining cashire, I feel convinced that if at all, it would be for the purpose employed to a field where their labor is needed for employment. I think it proper to express my opinion. I remain,

means necessary for sustaining cashire, I feel convinced that if at all, it would be for the purpose employed to a field where their labor is needed for employment. I think it proper to express my opinion. I remain,

means necessary for sustaining cashire, I feel convinced that if at all, it would be for the purpose employed to a field where their labor is needed for employment. I think it proper to express my opinion. I remain,

means necessary for sustaining cashire, I feel convinced that if at all, it would be for the purpose employed to a field where their labor is needed for employment. I think it proper to express my opinion. I remain,

means necessary for sustaining cashire, I feel convinced that if at all, it would be for the purpose employed to a field where their labor is needed for employment. I think it proper to express my opinion. I remain,

means necessary for sustaining cashire, I feel convinced that if at all, it would be for the purpose employed to a field where their labor is needed for employment. I think it proper to express my opinion. I remain,

