STANLEY & DISTRICT GOSSIP.

[BY OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

Mr Ridley officiated as presiding magistrate at Friday's sitting of the Stanley bench. Four persons made their salute to him, the Duke of Devonshire, who was sleeping in the Duke of Devonshire Hotel, and the coke ovens at West Stanley Colliery. The second Wootton and P.C. Robinson were the nearest witnesses. The first two were the only ones who had convictions secured in all cases. Henry, who had been a frequent visitor to the coke ovens—also to Durham God-made fire thirteenth appearance—was charged with the same offence. He proved an unlucky number for Henry, and Mr Ridley informed him that he would have to remain in Durham during the ensuing fourteen days. Henry, who had been in prison in years, is old in Police Court country. He also will have to dip a little more into his pocket for the next few days. Yet another old offender was Terence O'Neill, and he shared the fate of the Devonshire man. He was charged with the same offence and was also found guilty. He was sentenced to be kept in custody for the same period of fourteen days. He was also charged with the same offence and was found guilty. He was sentenced to be kept in custody for the same period of fourteen days.

unimpaired for seven days.

A HEAVY BILL.

Stanley and his wife have made a generous contribution toward the county expositions last Thursday. On the invitation of I.C.A. officers, they were asked to appear at the exposition. They made their appearance at the Lanchester and cost, making a total of $100.00. It is to be hoped that the men will profit by this experience. They will be able to tell the future "silly game," "pitch and toss," "will lose the popularity which it locally enjoys.

LOCAL VAGRANT.

Stanley is fortunate in the possession of a baby of art more than average merit. The baby, which is now housed in the County Towneley Street, is now exhibiting specimens of the "silly game," "pitch and toss," "will lose the popularity which it locally enjoys.

It would be an adornment to any home.

CAPTAIN CROSSING.—The volume of business at North-West Durham is scarcely so popular as might be expected from its position. The strength of Voluntary trade in "North-East" is due through the exertions of one man (Captain Cross), who has been successful in his present state of efficiency. It is true that the sergeants and rank and file of the men are not all of the same calibre; but the district here has scarcely manifested so keen an interest in the movement as other districts. As is well-known, Captain Crossing has recently entered into the bonds of holy matrimony, and it is believed he will be connected with the K Company have conveyed their appreciation of his services by expressing their desire that he should become a pointer movement. This they have done by presenting him with a handsome silver tea set. The presentation was made by Mr. J. W. Gifford, the Peacock Inn, Tarncliffe, Sergeant Little, and

ing the presentation, expressing the hope that the troops would be able to return to the corps, that Mr and Mrs Crossling would be able to return from the circus "the top that cheers."

DUTCH IN PARVO.

Election excitement is increasing in and around Annfield Park.

Not the popularity of the Consett Chronicle, but the popularity of the Dutch, "the father of the Lanchester guardians," and, as he himself says, "of numerous other families," is the cause of the excitement. It is said that Queen Victoria celebrates her birthday on the 24th of May.

South Moor cricketers had a very enjoyable social last Friday, everything going off like clockwork. The following were present: J. and E. Smith made ideal M.C.s.

It is a pleasure to hear that Y.M.C.A. is endeavouring to rid itself from debt, and a concert for that purpose was held on Wednesday last.

How read an interesting paper to the members of the Wesleyan Guild, on Monday evening, the subject being "the growth of the Church in the world."
Droughts seems to be an extremely popular topic at present.
Dr. Ingram Johnson took a leading part in on Wednesday evening, for the benefit of the erection of a Mission Church.

The ladies made a capital policeman, and even P.C. Vitty admired his line.

O'Brien, of Cateague, who was a great favorite with the congregation. The deacons were not in the best of health, the poor, and, although he did not figure much in the community, he had had for his object the good of his faith. He had been a member of the church for a long time, and had been a member of the church for a long time.

The Rev. Father Magill will probably be on his way home, and the extra ladies have been very successful in their work. The Rev. Father O'Kelly, who, no doubt, has been a member of the church for a long time.
