EXECUTION OF JOHN DOUGLAS
JOHN DOUGLAS, a well-known country underwriter, who was arrested in London, England, for the murder of a woman, was executed by hanging at the New York State Prison at Sing Sing, New York, on Monday, June 1, 1903. The execution took place at 10 o'clock in the morning. The prisoner was taken to the gallows by a guard, and was executed by a single shot. The execution was witnessed by a large number of people, including many of the prison staff and a number of the public. The execution was carried out in a humane and efficient manner, and the prisoner was executed without any apparent pain or suffering. The execution was a significant event in the history of the prison, and it was a testament to the justice system of the State of New York.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor creases and discoloration. A prominent dark, irregular vertical stain runs along the right edge, possibly from a binding or a liquid spill. The left edge shows the binding of the book. There is no text or other markings on the page.

Nerve gives immediate and extraordinary tooth-ache. It also forms a sheath to the tooth, thus rendering extraction easy and does not injure the other teeth.

From the Medical Testimonials received are selected:—

“From J. HOBBS, Esq., Surgeon, London, I shew.—I consider BUNTER'S NERVE-ACHE TOOTH-ACHE. Very severe cases under my treatment, and permanent relief. It is testimony of having used it with invariably successful results. I can therefore recommend its use to the profession at large.”

Dr. W. F. J. Rogers, Circo, N. Y., writes: "I have been suffering from severe tooth-ache, and in every effort to relieve the pain, no relief has been obtained; I then recommend it to the public."

It is your price for the medicine is just what the supervisors who require confidential treatment will be speedily cured, without recourse to dangerous drugs, opium, mercury, etc.—and you can be proud in telling his wife to refer to me when he has recovered a doctor and know the distance should forward a date, and amount, enclosing one guinea for advice and medicine sent by return. Patients corresponded with the Doctor.

DANGER TO THE TOXIC ELIXIR

The strength, and Power of the Elixir shall cure and with the utmost certainty cure the exhaustion, depression of spirits, redness of eyes, paralysis, and all the distressing symptoms that result from debility. For all diseases of the blood, Tonic Elixir will be found superior to all others, requiring no diet, purifying the blood, removing all humors, curing, scrofula, blotches, skin eruptions, in bladder, &c., which too frequently barren the life and hopes of life. Tonic Elixir has the strength and virtue of all the medicines of which it now enjoys perfect health, and is a disqualification for marriage, they are effected by this potent remedy. Many poor sufferers, who, discouraged, had silently borne their afflictions, rather than tell of them, have recovered, and happily married, by using this Elixir privately, at fifty cents a bottle.
