The VICE-CHAIRMAN ably seconded the motion, which was supported by a large number of members. Mr. J. C. YOUNG in a very effective speech. He condemned the action of the House of Commons in their treatment of the licensed victuallers, and said that the Government were trying to squeeze all they possibly could out of the trade for the purpose of keeping up the Imperial taxation, and yet they would like, if they could do so, to pitch overboard the whole of the

from shattered nerves, impure blood, a dead liver, low spirits, indigestion and the like, by a judicious use of Holloway's famous Pills, might easily and rapidly be restored to health, strength and vigour. The strong arm of justice sometimes fails to reach the evil-doer, but Holloway's Pills never fail in achieving their purpose.

inconsiderate consumers in this country injury of our own working people, so true evil is wrought by want of thought, as of heart." If all consumers would purchase and Mac's matches, that firm would be paying £1,000 a week more in wages, and more of the unemployed in East London be provided with work, instead of swelling the pauperism.
