day and Monday, the Rev. Egerton Ryerson, pioneer missionary to the Red Indians in the forests of Canada, paid a visit to this church, and immense crowds with stories of peril and in extending the "Conquest of the Cross" every where, for eight long months, the cold is below zero. Mr. Young preached a sermon

Following the example of the most famous orators he recounted his triumphs, told how he preached had cost none of its power, bashful as ever in lifting Pagan Indians to a state of life.

May, the rev. gentleman delivered one of his lectures on his work amongst the Red Indians. Alinsworth presided, and was supported by Butterworth, C. M. Greenway, J. Irwin, Mon, and Messrs J. W. Davison, and J. A. H. Smith.

A few pithy remarks the CHAIRMAN prefaced

He stated they were fortunate in having as Mr Young to address them, as now was making such bonds, thanks to the men men as Livingston, and, in a lesser Stanley, Burnaby, and Wolsey, the white race was felt in nearly every part of the pioneers of fresh country will necessarily rise.

and therefore he supported the movement with very little faith in its ultimate success.

The motion was carried; and the council adjourned at 9.30 on Thursday morning.

During the afternoon the members of the Council had a most enjoyable excursion by brake to Newgate, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

THURSDAY.

The Council re-assembled at 9.30, all the members present.

THE PAYMENT OF INSANE MEMBERS.

Bro. Graham moved that Rule 52 be expunged from their rule-book. He thought, and so did the London District, that whatever a member's position might be all should be put upon the same footing. The present rule defamed any member who became insane from the benefit of the

Bro. Simpson rose with very much pleasure to second the motion. That rule had been a great boon upon their order. If there was one disease more than another he thought it was that of a man suffering from inequity.

Bro. Phillipson said that Bro. Simpson stated last year that according to the Poor Law Amendment Act the rule was not of any use. He had inquired, and was told, not of any use. He had

He has seen several allusions to the state of the society, and he did not believe increasing their burdens. This would be a burden upon lodges who had members in this state. It was not a time to increase their liabilities, but rather to strike out a rule to demonstrate them. The question was if they passed a motion if the Guardians would not take into consideration the relief given to a man's family? They had no relief from a society the Guardians said. Mr. Henderson was instructed to oppose the removal of the rule unless they could make a new rule saying that these members were only to be in the society for not more than two years. They had a member who was regularly taken to the asylum

Mr. G.M. said as far as he was concerned he was not of the spirit in which the motion was put forward. He believed that he could not reply. Mr. Simpson being in favour of the rule was expounded, but he thought 1993 would have a more opportune time of bringing it forward than was necessary.
