

RL OF LICHFIELD ON

Richfield has been presiding at a meeting convened to form a lodge of Odd-fellows.

the Manchester Unity. His Lordship did not suppose that there was anything

Manchester Unity of Oddfellows which make a pledge of Oddfellows sound. there were certain advantages.

[illegible]

where there did not exist a number which no dependence could be placed—which the only interest of state appeared of figures to be drunk upon a certain there was one thing more important than case to do when he first joined a lending for him to ask himself--Is there any opportunity for the members of the I propose to belong, to spend the air funds in any manner whatever except for which I subscribe to it. It appeared that it was literally risking the pockets of the society to allow anything out of drink upon the nights of meeting, or for dinner, or for any other kind of indulgence, certain benefits, and when they took lands for any other purpose than towards undermining it. If the trustees have an annual festival, or any other provide the funds by a voluntary way—why ought not in any way to encroach belonging to the benefit members of the

He said that the sitting had been twice that the bankrupt might file special ac-the case sine die.—He, not now asked his the bankruptcy made the effect that he could not agree with an the price to be paid for preparing ; he ac-He said that there was an immense deficiency one year.—The bankrupt said that the credipropose him if they knew that he had lost Hoyle said that all the creditors opposed or adjourned the case sine die, giving the tion for one month.

paired for the bankrupts; Mr Joel for one and certain creditors. Mr. H. H.

Mr. Hurlburt appeared to pass their examination, and they would receive their discharge. They replied young men—Mr. Joel said that he repose their passing their examination on the word of Mr. Hurlburt also appeared on the ground because of a bill of sale which had been procured by father (Dr. Jacques). The accounts that bill of sale were very contradictory, to his knowledge that morning at the same occasion, when threatened with prison because the money was not advanced by their sister.—Mr. Hurlburt: As they deny that, he examined—Mr. Hurlburt wished the examination to be held in order to produce a witness, and he in Court: that he advanced the money.

His father's statement as to the bill of

The gross income was £1,000 a year, of which £500 was profit. They offered to pay their £1,000 in 12 instalments, over a period of years. Mr. Bish said that the agreement was a contra, which was opposed. Mr. Honour said that the official assigned an opportunity to test the accounts; and, if granted an adjournment until the 5th of and Percy Main stations, when a ward among the third-class carriages.

straining and shouting. As soon as the men found that it had been struck by a bolt from Eglwys to London, protesting that the iron had capered away the lamp in it some of the workmen of the carmen had been struck by the iron and in some instances with all danger to the injured persons were taken to Dr. Smith. They proved to be Ellen Smith, the wife of North Shields, and Elizabeth Knight, ten years of age, daughter of a blacksmith North Shields. Mrs. Smith is laboring with the effects of the blow, and some of the poor little girl's skull is fractured, and all state an about nineteen years of age, be-out at present living in Duke-street, charged before the North Shishima magistrate, being drunk and creating a disturbance, the prisoner was actually being dressed in a pair of blue trousers, and socks, a blue blouse, and a Yabeko evidently denoting the male attire for a criminal by Detective Hunter. On starting at the time a great crowd collected, prisoner appeared to hear the charge with and said she was quite sober when apprehended and dressed herself in outer clothes before he was here. Mr. Sano, however, the prisoner, who belonged to Hrabana, Shishima about eleven months, leading an was fined 200 and costs, which were

SCENE. — According to the John DeRobertis, who is playing the new Holiday's new dement, "A Great performance at Deurylane Theatre, a serious accident. The play is designed to leaving for realism, and one of the inci- of a Hansom cab, probably taken off cross the stage. As it entered, suppose driver mistook the way, and the driver (Miss DeRobertis) jumped in, all densely crowded, sent out a roar of and so loud that the horse, frightened came almost unmanageable, and the beats till it beat the brass roll which pro- for the strenuous exertions of the good" in the most natural and instigat the cab upon her, and the horse of the cab. The beast at last recovered a short distance.

WE AND THE LIBERAL PARTY.— Leeds, has addressed a long letter to Lord Lothian, in which he asks that general measure "calculated to bring back position which he alone fills, of our leader." Mr. Baines cannot altogether for the step which he has taken, and asks equivalent to withdrawal from the 7. At the same time he admits that "the greatest provocation, and it should have the effect of bringing to their allegiance it will be Mr Baines points out with great only possible leader of the party.

the utmost alarm the present position. He considers the Conservative bed and inseparable of being made measure. He therefore hopes that the other influential member, will take the istone's letter seems to leave open, more which would unite the Liberal to appeal to Mr. Gladstone's aid and victory. Mr. Ernest Jones is by no means that Mr. Gladstone ought to be absent party. Before resuming the he thinks that Mr. Gladstone's view of household suffrage, and whether at the head of a national movement enforcement, and pledge him-should have become law. On his other or not the people accept him people are tired of party, says Mr. Mc Mr. Gladstone must aim at being the head of some 200 or 300 vacillat-

