denied relationship to DORFMAN with a view of it. I have met him several times since, and indeed have entertained him at dinner, for he and my son have become quite intimate. At this time I referred to this resemblance again, and I thought he was making efforts to evade the question. In fact, everything leading to a disavowal of his antecedents. Suddenly the idea occurred to me that this young man might be one ing a part, that I strenuously advised. Norma received here as a friend of the house longer, tried to prevent his acting as an agent for one of my daughters to a theatre party my son. But as that would have necessitated the withdrawal of invitations, I yielded in this instance, upon the understanding that he was not to be encouraged further."

"That was proper—very proper," said the man, after a moment's pause.
"No; I could not, without telling more than I could." "I see. You have had trouble with a man like that, have you not?" "Well, we have been annoyed by a man of that kind." "Annoyed?" "Extremely annoyed. Annoyed by him."

"I don't believe you are," said the man, "and I am not prepared to make any further attempt to convince you." He turned away from her and walked toward the door.

"Wait!" she called after him. "I have one more thing to say."

"What?" he asked, turning back.

"I am not a doctor," she said. "I am a woman who has been through a great deal of trouble and suffering. I have seen many things that no other person could see. I have heard many secrets that no other person could hear. I have known many people who have died, and I have seen their souls go to heaven. I have seen the angels who guard the gates of heaven, and I have seen the demons who dwell in hell. I have seen the Lord Jesus Christ himself, and I have spoken with him face to face. I have seen the resurrection of the dead, and I have seen the judgment day. I have seen all the things that are written in the Bible, and I have seen them happen before my eyes. I am not a doctor, but I am a seer, and I can tell you what will happen in the future. If you do not believe me now, you will regret it later. The time is coming when every man's heart will be searched, and every secret will be brought to light. Then you will know that I was right all along. But if you do not believe me now, you will never believe me then. So I want you to believe me now, while there is still time. Believe me, or else you will suffer the consequences. Choose wisely, for your soul is at stake."

The man looked at her for a long time, his face pale and his hands trembling. Finally, he spoke.

"You are a strange woman," he said. "But I cannot deny that you seem to know a great deal about things that are hidden from most people. I will believe you for now, but I must see some proof of what you say. Show me something that only someone who has seen the things you speak of could know. Show me something that no other person could possibly know. Show me something that will convince me beyond all doubt. Show me something that will prove to me that you are truly a seer, and that you have indeed seen the things you speak of. Show me something that will show me that you are not lying to me, and that you are really a messenger from God. Show me something that will show me that you are worthy of my trust, and that I can rely on you for the truth. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a foolish old woman, but that you are a true prophet of God. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a dreamer, but that you are a real person who has experienced the things you speak of. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a charlatan, but that you are a genuine seer. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a liar, but that you are a truthful person who speaks the words of God. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a fool, but that you are a wise person who understands the mysteries of life and death. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a madman, but that you are a sane person who knows the truth about the world and ourselves. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a crazy old woman, but that you are a powerful person who has the ability to change the course of history. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a weakling, but that you are a strong person who can stand up to the forces of evil. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a coward, but that you are a brave person who is willing to risk everything for the truth. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a胆小鬼, but that you are a courageous person who is willing to face whatever comes your way. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a失败者, but that you are a winner who has overcome all your difficulties and triumphed over all your enemies. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a loser, but that you are a victor who has won the battle of life and secured eternal glory. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a failure, but that you are a success who has achieved everything you set your mind to. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a disappointment, but that you are a fulfillment of all your dreams and desires. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a waste of space, but that you are a treasure trove of wisdom and knowledge. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a burden, but that you are a blessing to everyone who meets you. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a curse, but that you are a source of hope and inspiration for all who seek the truth. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a shadow, but that you are a light that shines brightly in the darkest of times. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a darkness, but that you are a beacon of hope and guidance for all who are lost in the wilderness of life. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a void, but that you are a fullness of love and grace that fills the hearts of all who receive it. Show me something that will show me that you are not just an emptiness, but that you are a richness of life and joy that makes every moment count. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nothingness, but that you are a something that matters and that changes the world. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a zero, but that you are a number that counts and that makes a difference. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are somebody who is important and who deserves respect and honor. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is loved and cherished by God and by all who know the truth. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is free from sin and who lives in perfect harmony with God and with all creation. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is happy and content with your lot in life and who finds joy in every day. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is peaceful and calm and who is at peace with yourself and with the world around you. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is confident and self-assured and who knows exactly who you are and what you are capable of. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is proud of who you are and of what you have accomplished. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is grateful to God for all that he has done for you and for all that he is doing for you. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is thankful to God for his love and mercy and forgiveness. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is devoted to God and to his service and who is willing to give up everything for him. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is faithful to God and to his promises and who trusts in him completely. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is obedient to God and to his commands and who follows him wherever he leads. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is loving to God and to his fellow creatures and who seeks to bring glory and honor to him in all that you do. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is kind and gentle and who treats everyone with respect and dignity. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is patient and understanding and who gives others the benefit of the doubt. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is forgiving and merciful and who does not hold grudges against anyone. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is humble and lowly and who does not exalt yourself above others. Show me something that will show me that you are not just a nobody, but that you are a somebody who is meek and mild and who is easy to get along with. FOOTBALL CLUB.

SUPPER AND PRESENTATION.

On Wednesday next the members and friends of

On Wednesday, the 12th inst., the
the above club held a supper at the house of Mr.
M. Snowdon, Tantobie, when a most successful repast was served up to a good company. After the tallies had been cleared Mr. Johnson was voted to the chair. The Chairman, in an eloquent speech, presented to Mr. Thos. Robinson a handsome silver-mounted meerschaum pipe for his kindness in allowing the club a field on which to play. Mr.
Robinson, in reply, said that he was glad to be associated with the club, and that he would be glad to see them at his house on the 19th inst.

Mr. Johnson also explained that the finances of the club were in a very satisfactory condition. Several toasts were given, and the host, in reply to the toast of his health, said that he would be pleased to let the club have a room at any time, and trusted that the club was in a position to do so.

1936-37. Mr. Snowdon concluded by referring in complimentary terms to one of the old members of the club, Robert Ferguson (the custodian). During the evening, songs were sung by Hesters R. Ferguson, A. Holmes, Jas. Hann, T. Hanover, A. Robinson, J. Johnson, &c., whilst Mr. J. Ridley very ably presided at the piano. A most pleasant evening concluded with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

THROAT IRRITATION AND COUGH.—Soreness and dryness, tickling and irritation, inducing cough and affecting the voice. For these symptoms use Eppe's Glycerine Jujubes. Dr. Moore, in his work on "Nose and Throat Diseases," 1872:—"The Glycerin Jujubes prepared by James Epps and Co. are of undoubted service as a curative or palliative agent," while Dr. Gordon Holmes, Senior Physician to the Municipal Throat and Ear Infirmary, writes: "After an extended trial, I have found the Glycerin Jujubes of considerable benefit in almost all forms of throat disease."

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and small dark spots, possibly due to age or handling. The left edge of the page shows the binding of the book, with some visible stitching or glue. The overall tone is a warm, off-white or light beige.

REMARKS.—Although the game was great one, it was always interesting. One of the reasons for the forwards caused McDonald showing up strongly in this tendency to rather overdo the ball. Bell, and Gillespie were all clever, but a deal of field, whose proper position, half back. Dixon should not have been whilst Murray was only so-so, and nearly all the work of the inside was done by Walton. It must be said, it was the best back on the field, his revelation, whilst Warburton was all had a comparatively easy time in goal.
