SPECIAL TERMS TO UNDERFARRER.
GEO. J. CHRISTOPHER

DEATH OF MRS LUMLEY, OF ANNFIELD PLAIN.

Funeral was held by Mr John Gurney, minister at the house of Mr J. M. Lumley, Kewbury Park, Plain, respecting the death of Elizabeth Lumley, the wife of the landowner of that locality. She died, from a slight cold, at the residence of her son in the bar on Monday, 20th inst. The doctor or husband advised her to go to bed. She rose p.m., and laid herself down on the bed. She was again advised to go to bed, but she opened the window, and by some means or other, dropping a distance of about twelve feet, fell. She was very much injured and lived only a few hours, and died at five o'clock (Sunday) and was buried at 10.30 (Monday) at Annfield and Hope (Cathcart).—After a protracted illness, the lady returned a resident that she had been severely and accidentally falling on a common road.

Funeral took place at Lanchester on Sunday inst., the funeral being one of the largest ever held in the village. The funeral was in charge of Messrs. Coaches. There were about 120 persons present.

The utmost sympathy is felt for Mr Lumley and his family in their bereavement.

From sight, but still to memory dear,
Thou silent sleeper in the lonely churchyard,
From the winds that have blown here and there,
Thou never far grows the green grass we so dear;
Thy affection has watered with many a tear,
