

STER PETTY SESSIONS.

The Standard Mercury announces the death in the town of Mrs. George Shaw, aged 102.

It has been computed that if all the people who have died in the city of London in one day were placed in single rank, they would reach upwards of 500 miles.

We encountered in Paris that Troppmann was gone mad in Maastricht prison. It is said that he supplicates his warden not to convey from him any more letters that he feared the other King.

The Spinifish, with cargo valued at £150,000, which left on Saturday last for Shanghai, and which was captained by Mr. Dungeness, is likely to become a complete loss.

DEATH OF MR. JUSTICE HAYES.—Mr. Justice Hayes died at Westminster House last night, at twelve o'clock on Wednesday night. It is stated, with some degree of confidence, that the venient Jurisdiction in the Court

THE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.
The Speaker of the House of Commons writes a letter to the Morning Post of yesterday (Thursday), in which he authorities that never to forget the report that he intends retiring from the Speakership next session.

Markets.

THE COIN TRADE.

The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the coin trade during the past week, has not failed to say on the subject of the markets, but to do the authors and Editors of the paper have been attacked for the false pains of flour and wheat. After holding our own during several years of the Express, says that foreign markets show more promise to decline than our own. The Editor offers no proof for his statement, but he is even flatter than France and the rest countries are lower, as well as America.
