He wanted a health resort in every village. Education was the most important. Every village would lead the way towards the crusade against disease. The world was intended to be a healthier world, but only the health can be made. "Folks are asked, and even asked to live under conditions they never should. Some of some of their towns was

He said that if ever they opened one in the country, it should be at Stanhope. They had all the conditions for such a place. (Applause).

Rev. LIVINGSTONE also spoke of the aspect of the case from a financial point of view, and said that the money was to come from the Government. He also intimated that the Government at Stanhope must come from the Local Board.

He said, in reply, that the committee or ion formed might suggest to the Local Board - instruments they law to be needed.

The old veteran founder of Methodism in Stanhope from time to time, I think, might also be made in the Hack Lane approach to the Wesleyan Chapel. The site of so pretty a place should cause the people to live sweet, white, clean, and happy. Anything I can do to help the association I most happy to do it.

M. EGGLESTON, Sanitary Inspector and the principal historian, pointed out that as everything had been said by the previous meeting that could be said on the subject, he would Genet—the chief organ of the faculty—of last, has the following reference to "Stannan health resort":—"The people of Stannan are an effort to bring the claims of the place as a resort more fully before the public. Certainly prior at least of the year, Stannan presents advantages. It is a little market town with a station, is well built, stands high, and is surrounded with beautiful scenery, which are a fine asset to the health resort."
