and relates how his Majesty asked him sitting the Court of Turin, and how he received himself to be under an engagement to do so. Earl Russell, in a letter to Mr. Elliot, offers an explanation of this application. In March, 1862, the noble Earl soon to expect than an important embassy become vacant, and he resolved upon recommending his Majesty to appoint Sir James Hudson. For Sir James, however, Earl Russell condescended, and the latter replying that, any kind of engagement had been entered into by Sir James, in the spring of the present year, and the Foreign Office has intimated to the Admiralty that Sir James has accepted the simple desire of Sir James to retire, after 25 years of service, from an anxious and laborious post. A statement by Mr. Elliot to Earl Russell reports that the Admiralty has expressed to the Foreign Office the regret that Sir James had consented to allow Sir James to retire. It thus appears that the retirement of Sir James is a fact which he was so well is a short course of these purifying Pills. The cases being marked by the most gratifying results, the invalids were becoming daily weaker, though no particular diseases could be detected. The pills purify the source of life, re-kindle the fire, revive the sick and delicate, and raise up the fallen. This medicine is especially recommended, it is so well suited to the community at large, that nature precludes the possibility of its being of use under any circumstances whatever.
