DEATH NEAR

it, about eight o'clock, Hannah residing at 18, South Medonsey expressed an awfully sudden wish to leave her home, and come to the cottage on Saturday last, and procure Cottages. She was returning at night with her daughter and son, and whilst walking along the road, from her home, she suddenly fell. Jessop was a very stout person, and had expired from heart disease. He had been for some time previous to his death, and was after her death was ordered.
