The new house was more or less situated for the direct purpose of being the headquarters of the thousands of men who were public-house if the temperance men, and they were literally thousands. The number of drinking shops in the place came from the fact that the men made money by planting tobacco was a large population. They already built 200 houses, and more. His firm had purchased South Moor, but he did not think that he would buy the public-house for £1,000 for the place. He was a working man, himself, and he obtained the signatures was wanted pay for the job.

CORNSAY COLLEGE.
On Friday night, a concert under the auspices of the Cornsay Colliery, "Prep O' Day" for the boys, was held and the proceeds given to the Red Cross, who has been unable to find work for the boys. Through an accident, for 6 men in the programme was ably rendered. Mr. Hardy has taken the chair but being unable to attend, sent 10s towards the aim of the concert. Messrs J. Hardy and Alan acted as accompanists. Previous to starting the Cornsay Brass Band played and invited the people to attend, and in good numbers.

NOTES FROM WEARDA

[By "STANHOPE."]—

Hospital Sunday at Stanhope turned out the whole. Collections were taken at worship in aid of the Nurse Assoc. collections at Stanhope and Crawfords realised the handsome sum of £100.

Backshop Flower Show was a success. There was a good collection of potteries, excellent lots of spar materials and fossils, and school children's classes were Allenshead string bead did well. The day was very successful. Great credit is due to the secretary, and the energetic success of this year's show. Backshop an exhibition of a few flowers in April it will leave Backshop show the lot.

There are some queer sticks in Gleditsia to snuff. When the sticks are the spar crystals show like sulphur, later it is ordinary stone. In twelfth magnitude had appeared. There are folks in the show as there are elsewhere.

A noted Walsingham Angler has big fish already this week. A

Stanhope cricket club are in for a few with crack teams.

A salmon carriage went from Frosterley on Monday with the salmon to the coast. They were taken for sale at some of the stations.

The Froterley and Stanhope quarries are poor turned-out at their demonstration on Tuesday morning. The stone from Teesdale was used up through Frosterley, and about 200 tons of stone was sent to the Frosterley band and banner, yet there is no quarrymen.

Mr Joseph Arch, M.P., when at Wolsingham on Saturday, said to the visiting men at the station, "Do you know how it is? I am Prince of Wales as so friendly! I wish when he shakes hands with me does something clear."

Some queer cases turn up at Wolsingham. Two lovers, who had quarrelled on the ball, is going home, near Stannfield, lately, had to have their quarrelling settled by having to drink his health and her health.

Another case was a disputed right of way in the streets at Tow Law, which will fought by Mr. C. Merriott, who
